Action Steps:

Increase the completion rate of IPRs

There will be an ongoing process with students receiving individualized support and feedback regarding social-emotional learning and college/career exploration.

Goal:

There will be an increase in the completion rate of Individual Progress Reviews (IPRs) for middle and high school students.

Action Steps:

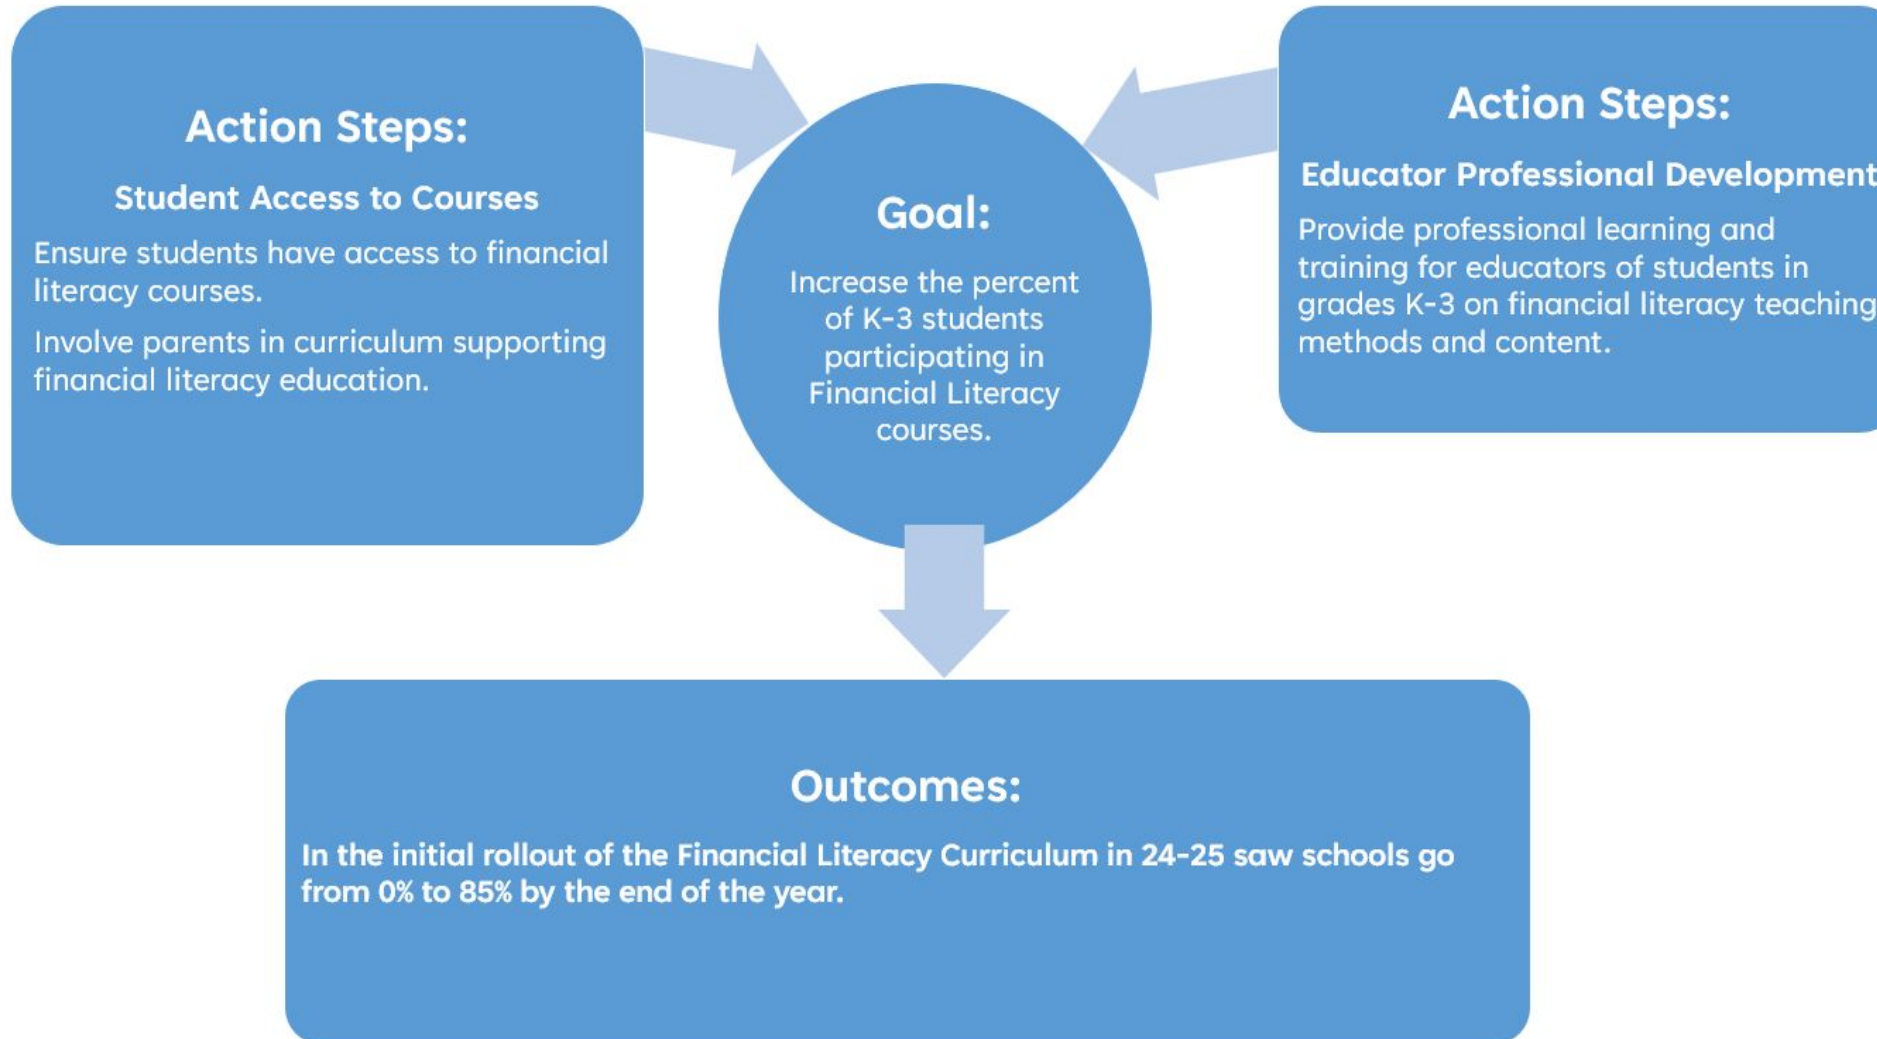

Improve the quality of IPRs

Student Services Manager will be monitoring the quality of the IPR's. An initial meeting will be held with each group and share resources with them and have them review last year's IPR's using a checklist.

Outcomes:

- There has been an increase in the quality of the IPRs that have been completed as noted through random sample reviews.
- Due to School Counselors completing IPRs earlier, they can spot academic, behavioral, or social-emotional challenges early and implement targeted interventions before issues escalate.
