

Portfolio of Services

Navigating Cyber Incidents with Confidence

At Actaeus, we help organisations prepare for and manage cyber incidents with clarity and assurance. Our expert-led services provide tailored strategies designed to minimise disruption and financial impact. From proactive cyber risk assessments to comprehensive incident response planning, we ensure your business has clear protocols and decision-making frameworks in place before an event occurs. Should a breach happen, our team delivers rapid advice and guidance applying industry best practice to restore operations swiftly while maintaining trust and compliance. By combining technical expertise with business resilience planning, Actaeus empowers you to respond effectively and strengthen your long-term cyber security posture.

Building Resilience Through Cyber Risk Management

Actaeus delivers comprehensive Cyber Risk Management solutions that help organisations identify, assess, and mitigate threats before they impact operations. Our approach combines advanced risk analysis with practical strategies to strengthen your security posture and ensure regulatory compliance. We work closely with your team to develop tailored frameworks that prioritise critical assets, address vulnerabilities, and align with business objectives. By embedding resilience into your operations, Actaeus enables you to manage risk proactively, reduce exposure, and maintain confidence in an increasingly complex digital landscape.

Trusted Support for Information Security Management

Actaeus provides end-to-end Information Security Management solutions that give organisations the confidence to protect sensitive data and maintain compliance with industry standards. We help design, implement, and optimise security frameworks such as ISO 27001, NIST, Cyber Essentials (amongst others), ensuring robust governance and continuous improvement. Acting as your dedicated point of contact, our experts offer ongoing guidance, monitoring, and advisory support, so you always have a trusted partner to turn to for security decisions and incident handling. With Actaeus, you gain a single source of accountability and expertise, enabling you to safeguard information assets while focusing on your core business objectives.

Ensuring Operational Resilience with Business Continuity Planning

Actaeus helps organisations prepare for the unexpected by developing robust Business Continuity Plans that keep critical operations running during disruption. Our experts work closely with you to identify essential business processes, assess potential risks, and design practical recovery strategies tailored to your business needs. From scenario planning to testing and optimisation, we ensure your organisation can respond quickly and effectively to incidents, minimising downtime and safeguarding reputation. With Actaeus as your trusted partner, you gain the confidence that your business is resilient, adaptable, and ready for any challenge.

Why Actaeus? - Proven Expertise in Cyber Security and Risk Management

With over two decades of experience spanning law enforcement, financial services, and consultancy, Our Company Director Jim Fox brings unparalleled expertise in cyber security, risk management, and business resilience. As a CISM-certified professional and Head of Security Engineering, Jim has led strategic security programmes, implemented robust governance frameworks, and delivered complex projects for high-profile organisations. His career included designing national contingency plans, advising on ISO standards, and managing cyber risk frameworks for major financial institutions. Jim's ability to act as a trusted advisor and single point of contact for clients ensures clarity, confidence, and continuity in navigating today's evolving threat landscape.

Professional Affiliations and Industry Engagement

Jim is an active member of leading security and technology organisations, including BCS (The Chartered Institute for IT), ISACA, and The Security Institute. These memberships reflect his commitment to staying at the forefront of industry best practice, governance standards, and emerging trends in cyber security and risk management. Through these networks, Jim contributes to thought leadership, collaborates with peers, and ensures that clients benefit from the latest insights and innovations in information security and resilience.

About Us

At Actaeus, we specialise in delivering expert-led risk advisory services that empower organisations to thrive in an increasingly complex digital world. Our mission is simple: to help businesses anticipate, withstand, and recover from cyber threats with confidence and clarity.

With deep expertise in Cyber Risk Management, Incident Response, Information Security, and Business Continuity Planning, we provide tailored solutions that align with your strategic objectives and regulatory requirements. Our approach combines technical excellence with practical business insight, ensuring resilience is embedded across your operations.

Founded on decades of experience in Cyber Security Engineering, risk governance, and crisis management, Actaeus acts as a trusted partner and single point of contact for clients navigating today's evolving threat landscape. We pride ourselves on delivering measurable outcomes, fostering long-term resilience, and building relationships based on trust and transparency.

Our Commitment: To safeguard your organisation, protect your reputation, and enable you to operate securely - whatever challenges lie ahead.

Contact Us

We'd love to hear from you!

For enquiries, support, or more information, please reach out to us:

Actaeus Ltd a company registered in England and Wales | Company Number 16886440

✉ Email: enquiries@actaeus.co.uk

📍 Address: 71-75 Shelton Street, Covent Garden, London, WC2H 9JQ.

We'll get back to you as soon as possible.