Turning Ideas Into Reality

At Ready, Start, Go, we provide specialized expertise to support the full range of business needs. Our mission is to help entrepreneurs of all ages transform their ideas into thriving enterprises.

Research shows that nearly 40% of secondary school students dream of starting a business or inventing something world-changing. Most, however, need guidance to turn big ideas into viable ventures. That's where the Young Entrepreneur Series comes in—combining classroom instruction with hands-on solutions to real-world challenges.

Through this program, RSG shifts mindsets from fixed to growth, equipping students with entrepreneurial and economic skills that deepen engagement and spark innovation. Our Business Development Specialists assess each participant's needs and provide personalized recommendations for long-term success.

With RSG mentors by their side, participants build confidence, develop professional skills, and prepare to pitch their business plans to potential funders—taking bold steps toward becoming the next generation of entrepreneurs.
