EMPOWERING YOUNG ENTREPRENEURS TO BUILD
SUCCESSFUL BUSINESSES

THE YOUNG ENTREPRENEUR SERIES

Dream it. Plan it. Do it.

Entrepreneurial projects can keep young people busy and away from negative influences. They can also help shy kids find something to talk about and feel good about. Young people can establish patterns of creativity, problem-solving, and initiative. They can also learn other key skills such as time management, teamwork, and delegation.

Ready, Start, Go (RSG)

provides specialized expertise in business matters. We are structured to address a client's end-to-end business needs. We help entrepreneurs of all ages take their ideas and turn them into reality.

HELPING YOUTH DESIGN SUCCESS!

In this country it is believed that about 40% of secondary school youth want to start a business or invent something that will alter the world. The majority of these young people require assistance in turning their huge ideas into viable enterprises or expanding their current businesses. The Young Entrepreneur Series brings together direct classroom instruction and application of hands-on solutions to real-life challenges. RSG's goal is to transform young people's mindset from fixed to growth - instilling entrepreneurial and economic ideas allowing for deeper participant engagement in the classroom.

Our Business Development Specialist analyzes participants and their existing practices and then makes the recommendations necessary for long-term objectives. RSG team members serve as classroom mentors and ensure that participants are prepared to pitch their business plans to potential funders. They learn how to present themselves professionally and gain business confidence and skills.

UNDERSTANDING BUSINESS

Participants use critical thinking skills to plan and conduct research, manage projects, solve problems, and make informed decisions using appropriate digital tools and resources.
