

UPMA

United Postmasters and Managers of America

Benefits of joining UPMA as a Supervisor or Manager of Processing/Maintenance/Logistics

- Representation for any administrative actions. Our members have immediate access to our network of Trained and Certified Chapter Member Representatives. These CMR's represent you during Investigative Interviews, process appeals associated with any administrative action you are issued and negotiate on your behalf for any possible settlement.
- After you have been a member for one year, as an EAS employee, you have the benefit of our Adverse Action Legal Defense Plan if the need arises. This provides access to a UPMA supported attorney to properly represent you with any adverse actions at MSPB.
- Assistance with workplace environment issues. We provide support for administrative issues such as pay, leave, and other workplace issues.
- Annual National and Chapter Conventions that offer training, networking, and upward mobility assistance. All members are welcome to attend. We do not vote on delegates to decide who attends our events.
- Active Members have the privilege to vote and hold leadership positions at all levels of the organization.
- Leadership Development – UPMA continues to partner with the Postal Service expanding our training within and outside the USPS.
- You gain a network of Supervisors and Managers in Processing, Maintenance, Logistics, and other EAS Professionals who can assist you in your daily duties and mentor you for future opportunities.
- Unitedpma.org – offering the latest information regarding the organization legislative issues, online training, upcoming events and Postal Service related information that effects your career.

Are you looking for an organization that truly understands your needs, advocates for your interests, and supports your professional growth? If so, UPMA is for you! UPMA is dedicated to assisting, mentoring, and guiding our members in achieving their professional goals, as well as supporting individuals aspiring to EAS positions. We are an avenue through which all USPS employees can help one another and themselves in matters concerning their careers. We provide the essential training and networking necessary for every member to be successful.

As an organization, we always strive to improve the conditions under which our members work and the compensation they receive. Our organization's leadership consults regularly with Postal Service management on policies affecting the careers of our members. The Postal Service landscape is evolving, and so is UPMA. We are committed to listening, adapting, and advocating for our members interests in this modern environment. Our leaders at the state and national levels are current USPS employees. We believe this is fundamental for staying in touch with the priorities and concerns of our members. After all, who is better qualified to represent you than your fellow Supervisors and Managers in Processing, Maintenance, Logistics, and other EAS Professionals living and working in the same conditions you do every day?
