

FINANCING OUR OWN SALVATION: A CALL TO ACTION FOR THE CHURCH

In the ever-evolving landscape of modern communication and community engagement, the church finds itself at a crossroads. The Lord Jesus Christ, in His infinite wisdom, beckons us to listen closely: "He who has ears to hear, let him hear what the Spirit is saying to the church." This call is not merely a suggestion; it is a divine imperative for us to discern the spiritual truths that guide our actions and decisions.

The Apostle Paul reminds us in 2 Corinthians 6:17, "Therefore, come out from among them and be separate, says the Lord; do not touch what is unclean, and I will receive you." This scripture serves as a clarion call for the church to distinguish itself from the secular world, to create a holy space, and set apart for the worship and service of God. It is a reminder that our identity as the body of Christ is rooted in our commitment to live according to His principles, even in the face of societal pressures.

Recently, a revelation was imparted to a minister of the Gospel regarding the profound truth found in 2 Corinthians 8:9: "For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that you through His poverty might become rich." This scripture encapsulates the essence of sacrificial love and the transformative power of grace. It challenges us to consider how we, too, can embody this principle in our lives and communities.

In light of this, the Marketing Shares Rally for churches emerges as a pivotal initiative. This program invites pastors and congregations to invest in shares of Sikhona, Inc., a company that offers innovative alternatives to mainstream social media platforms like Facebook (META), WhatsApp, YouTube, and TikTok. Sikhona is not just a business; it is a mission-driven organization that seeks to empower churches and their members to reclaim their digital spaces.

Sikhona provides live-streaming services tailored for churches, enabling congregations to broadcast their worship and teaching services in a way that fosters genuine community engagement. By utilizing Sikhona's platform, churches can effectively "come out from among them and be separate," creating a unique environment that nurtures spiritual growth and connection without the distractions and pitfalls of secular platforms.

The potential impact of this initiative is profound. As church members begin to engage with Sikhona, they can cultivate their own communities for communication and fellowship.

The financial impact of following these protocols is that the value of the shares of Sikhona stock will increase exponentially because of the number of participants actively using Sikhona's division for live streaming and communication among church members, family, and friends.

Thus, Financing Our Own Salvation!

The "Matching Shares Rally" is a win-win situation for both shareholders and the church community. By participating in this program, church members can support their church financially while also gaining ownership in a growing and innovative company like Sikhona. This initiative not only benefits the church financially but also strengthens the bond between Sikhona and the church community.

Sikhona's alternative social media platforms offer a fresh and exciting way for users to connect and engage with others online. By investing in Sikhona stock, church members not only support the growth of these platforms but also have the opportunity to benefit financially as the company continues to expand and succeed.

Don't miss out on this unique opportunity to support your church and become a part-owner of a dynamic and forward-thinking company like Sikhona.

WHY HAVING OUR OWN IS SO IMPORTANT?

- It is a known fact that Africans and African descended people influence social media more than any other group of people on the planet.
- We influence social media more than any other group. And we rely on social media and online communications more than any other. But we have the least amount of control, and are the most disrespected online, and this makes us vulnerable in many ways and this is why we need to control our own!
- It is a known fact that Africans and African descended people influence social media more than any other group of people on the planet.
- Hundreds of billions of dollars are generated annually from social media and text messaging, and our communities see very little if any of this income.
- Not owning our own platforms makes it so that we cannot tell our own story, archive our history or control the narrative.
- Not having our own makes it nearly impossible to communicate in the event of an emergency and we can be disconnected from one another in an instant.
- There are those who are against teaching real history and having our own platforms allows us to teach our future generations without outside interference.
- To affect change that will positively alter the course of Africans and African descended people around the world, we need to.
