EXPERIENCE

Corman and Associates has a long history working with the branches of the military. Throughout the years we have partnered with AAFES, CGES, MCCS, and NEXCOM to create pristine retail environments enjoyed by our military personnel and their families.

Our experience allows us to create specialized environments that execute their desired functions flawlessly. From standardized products to unique, special projects, everything that we produce is designed to help our customers keep their customers happy with their retail experience.

FIXTURES

Although each store that Corman and Associates has crafted over the years has its own specific design and feel, certain fixtures have proven so invaluable to any retail environment that they have become constants for the stores that we design; including a great deal of the retail spaces that we have helped create for our branches of the military.

CUSTOMER SERVICE/ POS

Arguably the most important piece of furniture in your business. The spot where you interact with your customer. Appearance, function and placement are critical factors. Also, the most versatile item in shape, finish, function and accessories.

COSMETICS FIXTURES

Requirements for merchandising and sampling cosmetics are very similar store to store and brand to brand, while the colors and styles are vastly different. The engineering, storage capacity, lighting, etc. that are each standard components of our cosmetics line are a common foundation that supports your custom branding and finishing needs.

PERIMETER WALL CABINETS

Your stores perimeter walls will hold the bulk of your merchandise as well as the signage that promotes your product and services.

Although highly customizable, the general design and construction of any perimeter wall cabinet follows a certain process from design through construction, a process that we have managed to streamline and perfect over many years of operation.

TABLES

Tables are perhaps the most versatile fixture that can be found in any store. Seemingly simple, tables can be used to display almost any type of merchandise in a countless number of ways. For this reason, tables have become one of the most standard fixtures found in almost any retail space, including those ran by the branches of the military all over the world.
