FIBHEK'S YEAR TWENTY-TWENTY-FIVE

We should never forget the experiences we had in the past, instead, may it be reminders of things we should not take with us in the present and future.

History teaches us the mistakes we took and tells us to forge forward to make it better for the future.

Like the late President Jimmy Carter, we should continue to make our efforts count by helping our neighbors; protecting one another; doing things to lift our spirits, our souls and one another to make the present worth living for.
