Item 4. Advisory Business

Doucette Financial was founded by Rick Doucette and started in 2025. Its main goal is to help clients develop and build a retirement portfolio. The physical office is based in Androscoggin County, Maine.

Client data gathered will be used to examine the client's status in the development and planning for their retirement. By gathering such data as the level of acceptable risk, liquidity desire, and time horizon, investments provided to the client should fit their individual goals based upon provided information. Clients may impose restrictions when selecting investments based upon risk, liquidity, and a timeline for funds investment. These restrictions will be followed as guidelines to recommend the investment that both meets the restrictions and closely meets the goals of the individual.

Each client will have an Investment Advisor Representative who will complete an Investment Policy Statement that will be signed by the client.

The options of available offerings for client accounts include but are not limited to:

Exchange Listed Stocks (NYSE, AMEX); Nasdaq Listed Securities; ETFs; ETNs; Mutual Funds; American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"); Bonds (Government, Mortgage-backed, Municipal, Corporate); Exchanged Taded REITs.

The firm does not participate in a wrap fee program. Client's assets will be managed on a non-discretionary basis while being held in a custodian account.

Doucette Financial has a fiduciary duty to provide services consistent with the Client's best interest. Accounts will be monitored monthly to determine if changes are necessary based upon various factors such as but not limited to investment performance, market conditions, economic factors or changes in clients' investment goals and objectives. There is no guarantee that investment decisions made by Doucette Financial will be profitable or equal a specific performance level.

Item 5. Fees & Compensation

Clients can opt to have fees taken from investment accounts held by custodian (Altruist) or pay by ach debit.

These fees are not charged by Doucette Financial.

Item 7. Types of Clients

Doucette Financial is open to any client interested in our services. We do mainly focus on individual clients. There are no requirements for opening an account.

Item 8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves the risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Doucette Financial's methods of security analysis includes, without limitation, charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and economic analysis. The main sources of information will be industry research, reports purchased from research companies, publicly available data, annual reports, quarterly reports and other filings filed with the SEC. The investments strategies used to implement recommendations will be long-term purchases (held at least a year), short-term purchases (held less than a year), and trading (holding for a month or less), limit pricing, and stop losses.

Risk of Loss

It's Important to understand that all Investments carry some level of risk.

Stocks (Equities):

- Market Risk: The overall stock market can fluctuate due to economic conditions, political events, and investor sentiment.
- Company-Specific Risk: Individual companies can underperform due to poor management, competition, or industry changes.
- Volatility Risk: Stock prices can experience significant and rapid fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk: Some stocks, particularly those of smaller companies, may be difficult to buy or sell quickly.

Bonds (Fixed Income):

- Interest Rate Risk: Bond prices move inversely to interest rates. When interest rates rise, bond prices typically fall.
- Credit Risk (Default Risk): The issuer of the bond may default on its debt obligations.
- Inflation Risk: Inflation can erode the purchasing power of bond returns.
- Liquidity Risk: Some bonds may be difficult to sell before maturity.
- Reinvestment Risk: The risk that future reinvestment of coupon payments will be at a lower interest rate than the original bond.

Mutual Funds:

- Market Risk: Mutual funds are subject to the risks of the underlying assets they hold (stocks, bonds, etc.).
- Management Risk: The fund's performance depends on the skill of the fund manager.
- Expense Risk: Mutual funds charge fees, which can reduce returns.
- Specific Fund Risk: Depending on the type of fund, there can be very specific risks. For example, international funds have currency risk.

American Depositary Receipts (ADRs):

- Currency Risk: ADRs represent foreign stocks, so their value can be affected by fluctuations in exchange rates.
- Political Risk: Political instability in the foreign country can impact the value of the underlying stock.
- Economic Risk: Economic conditions in the foreign country can affect company performance.
- Information Risk: Foreign companies may have different reporting standards, making it harder to assess their financial health.
- Liquidity Risk: Depending on the ADR, liquidity may be less than that of US stocks.

Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs):

- Market Risk: ETFs are subject to the risks of the underlying assets they track.
- Tracking Error: An ETF may not perfectly track its underlying index.
- Liquidity Risk: While most ETFs are liquid, some may have low trading volumes.
- Specific ETF Risk: just like mutual funds, the risk of the etf is highly dependent on the type of assets it holds.

Exchange-Traded Notes (ETNs):

- Credit Risk: ETNs are debt securities, so they carry the credit risk of the issuing bank.
- Market Risk: ETNs are linked to market indexes, so they are subject to market fluctuations.
- Complexity Risk: ETNs can be complex financial instruments, making them difficult to understand.
- Liquidity Risk: ETN liquidity can vary.

Exchange-Traded REITs (Real Estate Investment Trusts):

- Real Estate Market Risk: REITs are affected by fluctuations in the real estate market.
- Interest Rate Risk: Rising interest rates can increase borrowing costs for REITs and reduce their profitability.
- Property-Specific Risk: The performance of a REIT can be affected by the condition and occupancy of its properties.
- Liquidity Risk: While exchange traded, REITs can still have liquidity issues, especially during market downturns.

Any investment involves the risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. As the client's goals, objectives, and risk tolerance change, it is the client's obligation to update the Investment Advisor Representative to update the Investment Policy Statement as well as update the investment strategies as needed.

Item 9. Disciplinary Information

Licensed investment advisers are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of its management. Doucette Financial and its management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Doucette Financial does not currently have any other financial industry activities or affiliations.

Item 11. Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Doucette Financial has adopted a code of ethics which seeks to honor the utmost principals of fiduciary responsibility or a licensed financial advisor. Our code of ethics seeks to ensure that employee personal investment does not interfere with, or bias client recommendations. Recommendations are monitored on a random basis to ensure that these policies are being followed. Any trading of the same securities that are recommended by Doucette Financial will take place after client trades are placed in order to avoid any conflicts of interest.

Item 12. Brokerage Practices

Doucette Financial has a custodian relationship with Altruist, which is where we will recommend that funds are deposited to be invested. Clients can always choose their own custodian or brokerage as well. Recommendations are based on client needs, the reputation of the brokerage, and the services they offer.

Item 13. Review of Accounts

Accounts will be reviewed monthly. Clients will also need to advise their advisor of any changes in their financial situation or plan which will affect their investment recommendations.

Item 14. Client Referrals

Doucette Financial may pay referral fees to independent promoters for client referrals. The promoter is required to provide the firm brochure and a separate brochure that provides the promoter's name, a statement informing the client the promoter is receiving a referral fee, the amount of the fee, and whether the fee paid to the promoter will increase the cost to the client.

The referral fee will not increase the client's costs.

Item 15. Custody

Doucette Financial does not have custody of client funds. Custody of client funds will be held by our recommended custodian Altruist or another broker which is chosen by the client.

Item 16. Investment Discretion

Doucette Financial only has non-discretionary authority over client accounts. Written or verbal permission will be needed for each trade made on a client's account.

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

Doucette Financial does not vote on client securities. We may advise the client on instructions which will enable them to vote but will not advise how they should vote.

Item 18. Financial Information

Licensed Investment Advisers are required to disclose financial information which may impair them from conducting business. Doucette Financial has no financial commitments that would obstruct it from conducting business. There is no requirement for prepayment of fees of $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance so the firm is not required to disclose a balance sheet.

Item 19. Requirements for State-Licensed Advisers

Rick Doucette founded Doucette Financial in 2025 after graduating from the University of Southern Maine with a bachelor's degree in finance. He has been in the finance industry since 2018.
