

GLOBAL IMPACT HOMES ANNUAL REPORT

FOR YEAR 2024 - 2025: JULY 1, 2024 - JUNE 30, 2025

Creating Positive Relationships Across Borders by Building Homes
& Better Communities for Those in Need.

Dear friends, donors and volunteers,

Thank you for supporting Global Impact Homes this past year. This past February our organization brought a team of twelve volunteers to Pondicherry, India for a week working with the Janani Home for Girls. Women and girls in India face numerous hardships that stem from deep-seated gender inequality and patriarchal norms. From a young age, many girls encounter discrimination in access to education, healthcare, and nutrition, often being treated as less valuable than boys. Child marriage, domestic violence, and dowry-related abuse continue to affect countless lives, particularly in rural and underprivileged areas. In workplaces, women often struggle with unequal pay, lack of opportunities, and harassment. Additionally, societal expectations and cultural pressures frequently limit their freedom and choices. Despite legal protections and growing awareness, many women and girls still battle systemic barriers that hinder their safety, dignity, and potential.

The Janani Home For Girls was established in 2013 to provide a safe and structured environment where the underprivileged girls, born into deprivation, can develop on their studies and develop individually. Because these girls are often neglected in society, Janani Home is incredibly important for the improvement of their lives, creating more opportunities in the future.

Global Impact Homes donated dollars towards material and labor, and along with our volunteers we were able to begin the process of remodeling Janani Home as they expand to house more girls.

Over the next fiscal year we have plans to support two new organizations with donations and volunteer support. We hope will continue to support us as we help those in need throughout the world.

It is an amazing experience to show the world the giving spirit of our volunteers while learning about a culture different from our own. We don't have a religious or political motive in what we do. We combine amazing experiences with doing good work, while bringing people together around the world through building better homes and communities. At the end of the day we are all more alike than different.

"Here I am seen as a woman, not as a member of a caste. I work with dignity."

"I work a lot, but I have a future. I know who I am again."

"Volunteering is one of the most rewarding things you can do. This was my third build and these projects always have such a meaningful and positive impact on me. It seems like such an insignificant act to donate a little time, but those we help appreciate it more than we can even comprehend. The tears of joy and heartfelt hugs on our final day says it all."

PONDICHERRY, INDIA

We partnered with Prime Trust, an Indian NGO that runs the Janani Home for Girls.

Janani Home is affiliated with the Department of Women and Child Development, Govt. of Puducherry and monitored by the Union Territory of Puducherry Child Protection Society and Child Welfare Committee. Janani Home for Girls strictly adheres to the terms and conditions laid by Juvenile Justice Act.

Over the course of the week we sanded and painted, pressure washed, removed flooring and began leveling for the new floor, and prepared the home to add additional rooms in order to house more children. We continue to be the official US fiscal partner for Janani Home through GlobalGiving.

After our week of work we celebrated with the workers before taking off for two nights of R&R in the beach town of Mahabalipuram.

THANK YOU FOR SUPPORTING GLOBAL IMPACT HOMES

What started as an idea to improve communities one family at a time has become a reality over the past six years. Thank you so much for helping us build a better world.
