

This is a program focused on helping family businesses create a governance structure that facilitates their growth, development and institutionalization.

Which framework and structure works depends on a number of factors such as the family characteristics (first generation, second or third etc.), whether there is a family forum, and complexity of the business and its structure.

Majority family businesses are dissolved or divided by the third generation

Program Overview

The program will aim to demystify the following:

1. Defining corporate governance and what that means for family businesses
2. Ways in which corporate governance can address ownership and management issues to ensure the sustainability of the business for future generations
3. Structures and frameworks that successfully integrate business sustainability with family harmony

Who should attend?

All persons involved in governing family businesses such as family members in the business and senior executives, in-house counsel and corporate secretaries working in family businesses.
