Founded in 1921, Addison Memorials has been crafting high-quality granite memorials for over 100 years. We proudly specialise exclusively in solid Granite & Stone.

Established by Arthur Charles Addison, the business was built on the belief that a memorial is more than stone; it is a place of remembrance, reflection, and connection for family and friends. Now in its fourth generation, Addison Memorials remains one of the few family-owned and operated monumental masonry companies in Australia, serving families across the Sunshine Coast, Queensland, and Melbourne.

Led by our fourth-generation monumental masons, our experienced team is dedicated to exceptional craftsmanship, compassionate service, and enduring quality. We customise every memorial to suit individual needs, styles, and budgets, offering a range of rare and exotic granite colours to ensure each monument is as meaningful and lasting as the memory it represents.

Full Monument

Anatomy of a full monument

A complete style made of several structural components that work together to create a durable and visually significant memorial.

Double Monument

Also known as a companion monument is a memorial design for two people, typically installed on a double plot. It provides a shared space for inscriptions while maintaining a balanced symmetrical design.

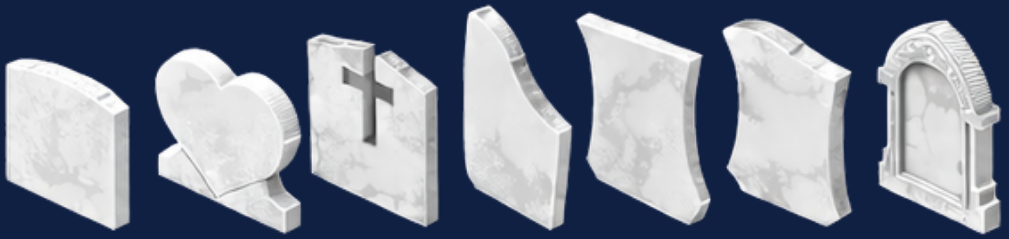

Mausoleum

A Mausoleum is an above ground memorial structure, designed for one or more caskets to sit above ground in a sealed vault. Constructed from high quality materials such as granite or marble, offering a refined and architectural memorial style.
