

To Whom it may Concern:

It's my absolute pleasure to write this letter on behalf of Brandon White.

As a former colleague and now friend you will find no other better than Brandon. I have had the pleasure several times of sitting down with Brandon and listening to him talk about his experiences in the field and the excitement in his voice is exciting to the hear. His love for business and experiences with the customers and people is what gives him the passion to do what he does.

His ambition and passion for the job at hand far exceeds any goal set for him. He goes above and beyond to make sure every task is done with the best quality and in the most professional manner.

Brandons compassion for leading exceptional in the fact that he puts his team first. Working with and alongside his team, not above. He drives his team with his work ethic, positive attitude and unwavering dedication for success. He is an excellent communicator, presenter and engages with his customers and clients meeting their needs flawlessly.

Brandon is honest, trustworthy and stands behind his words. I am confident that Brandons experience, reliability and dedication will make him the asset you are looking for.

Sincerely

Hope Parker
