To whom it may concern:

Reference: Mr. Brandon White

My name is Lisa Beddingfield and I am the owner of Flat Rock Kennel in Flat Rock NC. I am a breeder, owner and handler of American Black and Tan and American English Coonhounds. I am also involved with many organizations within our sport including The American Black and Tan Coonhound Association, Southeastern Treeing Walker Association and the North Carolina Coon Hunters Association just to name a few. I serve as either an officer or a director within these organizations and help put on many events for them. The hounds in my kennel are registered with United Kennel Club and American Kennel Club where I am also a licensed bench show judge for both of the registries. My personal profession is a Licensed Customer Service Representative holding the CISR designation for North Carolina Farm Bureau Support Service Corporation. This is my twenty third year working in the insurance industry so I understand the importance of good customer service, honesty, integrity and the ability to sell a product.

It is my pleasure to be able to offer a recommendation, personal reference letter for Mr. Brandon White.

I have known Brandon on a professional and personal level for going on twenty years. Brandon has always been a key component to the successes of our kennel and our ability to continue to grow and produce top winning coonhounds.

Brandon has worked for different companies during the time that we have known each other and no matter who he was working for or what product he was representing, he always treated us with the utmost respect and helped us in any way that he could. He has always been able to talk knowledgeably about the products that he was representing and able to answer any questions or concerns that we may have had.

Brandon's biggest asset to anyone that he has or will work for is he is present. He has always made sure that he is around the major events and or sponsoring portions of our major events. Being present, being a face that people trust and they know they can contact when a need arises or if there are any concerns is a key to anyone's success. Brandon has always had the personality to be successful at what ever position or profession he was representing.

I truly believe that Brandon would be a major asset to any company's sales force. He always gives 110% and goes above and beyond to make sure that products he is representing is out front and heard. Honesty and integrity are key to being able to be successful in any profession and Brandon holds those qualities above all others.
