Fun STEM quizzes

To take any of the quizzes below, visit Careers With STEM at <https://bit.ly/2v12Nrm>

Which area of science should I study?

Stuck between Chemistry, Physics or Biology? We'll help you break it down and match you to your perfect degree. Best of all? There are so many different careers to choose from, no matter what you get!

What's your STEM + X?

Studying STEM doesn't mean you're destined for a career as a scientist or mathematician! STEM students find jobs across all industries, thanks to a little equation we call STEM + X.

Find your STEM + X (where X = your passion, skills or area of interest) and discover the possibilities of a STEM career in just about any job.

What's your STEM + X?

Which area of engineering should you study?

If you're interested in engineering, you're not limited in your career or study choices! Take this quiz and we'll tell you where to start searching for your perfect engineering degree.

Are you a future entrepreneur?

Tell us a bit about the way you think, and we'll tell you whether you're a future entrepreneur!

STEM Careers

Not interested in going to university? No worries! Uni isn't for everyone. Fortunately, there are heaps of opportunities to study STEM that don't involve enrolling in a bachelor's degree. We're talking about vocational education and training – otherwise known as VET. Here, we hash out five alternative pathways, <https://bit.ly/2HsoRZu>

Criminology

Mind Map: Have you considered studying criminology in the future? The Careers Department has developed a fantastic mind map of criminology careers and courses. To explore the map, visit <https://bit.ly/2V4hSOG>

Courses: In Victoria, you can study undergraduate criminology at the following universities

Applying Medicine, Dentistry or Oral Health?

If you are in Year 12 and plan to apply for any of these health science courses to start in 2021, you may need to sit the UCAT ANZ (University Clinical Aptitude Test).

The UCAT ANZ is a two-hour, computer-based test which assesses a range of mental abilities identified by universities as important to practicing in the fields of medicine and dentistry.

It consists of five separately timed subtests which each contain a number of questions in a multiple-choice format.

You will sit the test in July 2020 and selected universities use your UCAT ANZ results as part of the selection process, in conjunction with your ATAR and HSC/VCE results, and in some cases an interview.

You will only have one chance to sit the UCAT ANZ this year.

Key dates

3 Feb	Concession Scheme and Access Arrangements open
2 Mar	Bookings open
4 Mar	Deadline for Concession Scheme and Access Arrangements
11 May	Booking deadline
18 May	Booking cancellation and late booking deadline
1 – 31 Jul	Testing
Sep	Results delivered to universities

It will cost you around $299 to sit the test, or $199 concession, and you will be able to receive your results straight away.

You have the choice to start preparing for the test early. There are several private companies who offer commercial preparation programs – www.nie.edu.au/ and www.medentry.edu.au/ are examples.

It is important to note that the universities who use the UCAT do not endorse any of these companies and you can access free preparation materials from the UCAT site at <https://bit.ly/2tjlewA>

Please go to <https://www.ucat.edu.au/> for more information about the UCAT ANZ, to see if you have to sit the test, and to register for the test.
