

“Desiree Jordan has the grace of Vanessa [Williams], the timeless beauty of Lena [Horne], and the feistiness of Dorothy [Dandridge]. Not only could she perform at the Grammys, but she could present at the Oscars.”

--Dr. Wesley A. Boyd, legendary music director and vocal coach to Patti LaBelle and Yolanda Adams.

Desiree Jordan is a vocal music recording artist, pianist, and producer on a quest to #KeepGoodMusicAlive -- delivering a message of love and light with gifts described as angelic and “Anointed.”

Desiree’s passion for the performing arts is rooted in her upbringing, growing up in a musical family in Silver Spring, Maryland. Active in school, church, and nationally acclaimed choirs from kindergarten through college (including the renowned Washington Performing Arts Society’s Children of The Gospel mass choir), Desiree’s extensive training developed and led her to dedicate over 10 years as a Choir Director to both a Children’s and Multi-Generational Choir (Minister of Music) - before age 30!

She devotes her sound-healing gifts as a genre-crossing solo artist, as a member of several music collectives & bands, and as a collaborator on the records of countless fellow artists. Interpreting music from gospel to classical music, R&B, jazz and funk, soul, to pop and electronic, Desiree has shared her musical gifts nationally and internationally. She has performed on famed stages such as Washington DC’s John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Blues Alley and City Winery; NYC’s Sounds of Brazil (S.O.B.’s) and B.B. Kings Blues Club; and she has led music workshops in the U.S. East Coast, Mid-West and the Caribbean; both in-person and more recently, online.

Desiree is always connecting with art-lovers in an effort to “Keep Good Music Alive!”

In addition to music, Desiree has expanded her vocal range with Voice Over Acting, having been professionally trained and recorded by the critically-acclaimed Such A Voice: Voice Over Training Company.

You and Me, single

Misunderstood, single

The Principles Present Desiree Jordan, EP

Her first single, You and Me, describes the reciprocation of love in a relationship. Desiree explains, "I know that love is an action; a verb. You must be it, and do it." You and Me had a phenomenal debut in late October 2011 as just days shy of its release, her song caught the attention of VIBE Magazine's partner site, SingersRoom.com, reaching over 26,000 hits within less than three weeks. Following the amazing release, she made her mark through placement on Singersroom Indie Spotlight, SoulTrain.com, IndieStageNow, and a feature in the debut print issue of HEED Magazine.

Her music is available on platforms including iTunes, Amazon, GooglePlay, Spotify, Tidal, and Soundcloud.

Desiree counts herself blessed to have vocally coached several singers and performing artists, including her dear friend and musical comrade, Stephan Marcellus, prior to his notable performance on NBC's television series 13th season, The Voice.

Desiree led the IAmMusic workshop series at the University of Northern Iowa, and redeveloped the curriculum into 'Songwriting' and 'Inspirational Choir' courses for students at the Satellite Academy High School in New York City.

Desiree is the founder and managing partner of DeseJo Entertainment, an all-encompassing company that collaborated on the branding, development and promoting of artists, including international singing sensation, Que Mosley (formerly of VH1's 'Making the Band 4' and the R&B group Day 26).

COLLABORATIONS

She is 1/2 of the performing duo, "Kia Bennett and Desiree Jordan as KiDé," a soul/R&B duo with an enchanting combination of warm, cozy, fluid, colorful, soulful voices, melodies with keys.

The two are also both the lead member vocalists of the revamped Roy Ayres-produced, RAMP -- an American soul/jazz band of the 70's whose music works have been sampled by R&B notables such as Erykah Badu, and Q-Tip from a Tribe Called Quest.

Performing with KiDé, Desiree contributed her musical healing sounds to a wide variety of audiences, from hotel residencies at the Hilton Norfolk The Main's Varia Wine Studio and the historic Cavalier Hotel (VA), to performing as a visiting artist of the Inova Schar Cancer Institute from September 2019 to March 2020.
