

Intersections Etiquette

December 2018

If you need to get something from the studio or basement a request must be made with the instructor or Stephen.

Talking to people who are working is disruptive. Talking to people in a workshop can be extremely dangerous. Do not talk to people using machines or hand tools. This is a place to work and not socialize.

Suggestions on what to do is the job of the instructor and no one else. Only offer advice when asked. (Appearance and Reality, Critical Methods. Page 155.) Do not “What you should do....” to others.

If you need help ask the instructor or a qualified person. Don't take risks, get help.

Stephen Hogbin
c. 519 378 5842