DAN WOOD

MICHIGAN WATER ENVIRONMENT ASSOCIATION

My job is critical to bringing water professionals together, communication of critical information, and providing a quality environment for learning. Without this our members might feel that they are "on their own" with a lack of support system to navigate the industry and lack a connection of purpose to the greater good.

My experience in leadership, communication, and people skills allows me to better support our members and inject energy back into the water professionals who do so much for our communities.

How did you get into the water industry? Why do you stay?:

This industry found me through family members, but I love it because it allows me to use my specific set of skills to help both people and the environment. The members that I serve are friendly and dedicated to the cause. The sense of community that's been achieved here is incredibly welcoming.

If you are looking for:

- Hybrid Work Environment
- Office and Event Setting
- Coworkers Who Care
- Purpose/Good Cause
- A Flexible Schedule

Not everyone has to have technical water knowledge, my skills fill a valuable people and event-detailed role that others don't have. Skills that keep things positive and enjoyable!
