Welcome to August! We all know that means Back to School, hurricane season and maybe more sewing. I hope many of you have gotten a chance to escape the heat by either traveling to somewhere cool, or by staying home and enjoying time in your craft rooms. I really enjoyed my trip to Ireland and Iceland, even the cold and wet days.

August is really heating up for the Guild, too. We have an in-person business meeting, workshop, and a hybrid daytime meeting. Registrations for the September retreat are ongoing as well.

Since my term as President is halfway completed, I am reflecting on what the best parts have been. I am proud of myself for finally putting more names and faces together. I am genuinely happy to see familiar faces when attending Guild events.

The Guild will need volunteers, especially for the Learn to Quilt booth at the Houston Quilt Festival. I know it seems early to be signing up, but Quilts Inc needs volunteer names so badges can be printed. The class schedules should be available soon, and we can make our plans for the week. I definitely receive more than I give when volunteering and I encourage everyone to sign up for a shift.

WE CHALLENGE YOU to use the fabrics included in the anniversary gift to create something original! Of course it can be a quilt, but it can also be any other item you like. A display of these creations will be a part of the 2023 Joy of Quilts. The only rule of the challenge is that you use the logo fabric along with any or all of the coordinating solids. Other fabrics may be added at your discretion.

The QGGH 45th Anniversary fabric was custom printed by Spoonflower. The solids are all Riley Blake Confetti Cottons in Blueberry, Alpine, Piglet Pink, and Apricot Blush. They are available from 5BucksA Yard.com should you want more.

Volunteer Opportunities—Help Wanted

Throughout the year we have the opportunity to share our love of quilting with others in the community, highlight our talents and grow the number of people who appreciate our art. This section is dedicated to ensuring that you have the opportunity to use your talents and skills and provides an “at a glance” for convenience.

Quilters Needed for Comforters

If anyone is interested in quilting, Janet Becker needs quilters. We are a bit behind, having lots of tops with batting and backing ready for quilting. Contact Janet Becker if you would like to quilt. If you will be at upcoming meetings, Janet will be glad to bring you a bundle.

QGGH Quilt Show, The Stafford Centre, January 27-28, 2023

Decorations Chair – We need some simple decorations for the show that will double as identification signs on the ends of each aisle. We already have an outline as to what will be necessary, although you will certainly be free to edit or improve upon it as you wish. The job will require you to request and collect some items from the membership (and see that they are returned after the show), make some basic signs to ID the aisles, and be there on set up day (Thursday, January 26), along with other volunteers, to make sure it all comes together beautifully! This job would be perfect to do with a friend if you like. If you are interested in knowing more details, email Lois Cleveland at clevelandlc@gmail.com

Glenda Wilder "Quilting Around the World"

Location: In Person

Since childhood, sewing and quilting have been important parts of my life. With an entrepreneurial spirit and a head full of ideas, quilt design has become my passion. I love mixing traditional and modern craftwork and patterns into fun and easy designs that allow all makers of all experience levels to enjoy the beautiful results of a successful project.

Meeting September 20, 2022 7 p.m.

Janice Schindeler "Every Quilt Tells a Story"

Location: In Person

For QGGH member Janice Schindeler quilting has become a form of storytelling and of recording current events - both personal and political. It all began in Australia in 1996 when invited to attend a one day quilting class. From that moment on she was hooked on quilting, taking classes that focused on original designs and learning the geometry of pattern. She has delved into 3D interactive quilts, modern quilting and spent the last 10 years or so working in the folk art style of Sue Spargo and heavily influenced by the folk art appliqué work of South America. She firmly believes that we all have stories worthy of being memorialized in a story quilt. Come and be inspired!

Library News

Library@qgghouston.org

Take advantage of our Library!

We are happy to introduce our QGGH library card catalogue. Our library has over 700 books, publications, and DVD’s! On the QGGH website there is now a downloadable file of our library contents for you to peruse. Along the top, go to ‘Menu’ (right side), then the dropdown menu to ‘Forms’, and then scroll down to ‘Library Books’. There you will find a link to an Excel spread sheet you may sort for subject, publisher, and author without messing up our cloud inventory. Using the A-Z (funnel) icon and the dropdown menu, click custom sort, to arrange it how you want the information prioritized. If you see something you are interested in, we are instituting a reserve system. Please email the librarians to place your hold! We want to fill these in a timely way but there may be a waitlist.

Books are added regularly and the file name will change with each update as we expand the collection.

Each year the QGGH sets aside money for its endowment program.

The endowment provides money (up to $300) to support projects by its members that “enhance, encourage or advance the art of quilting through continuing education for guild members and others in our community.”

These awards are made to members of the QGGH through a competitive application process.

Applications are accepted twice a year: March 1 and September 1, with awards given in May and November.

If you are a member of QGGH (have paid your dues for 2022) and are involved in an activity that meets the broad purpose of these awards, consider applying for endowment funds to help support your activity.

Additional details and the application can be found at our website www.qgghouston.org. Find the “More” drop down tab (top right on the home page). Click on the forms tab and scroll down past the library information to find the endowment and grants section. Quilt Show plans continue with progress being made on many fronts! Except for finishing my own quilts that is!!

Postcards advertising the show have been distributed to nearly 30 quilt shops throughout the Houston and Dallas areas, as well as shops in LaGrange, Shiner, Giddings, and Sealy. You can help by looking for them when you're out shopping. If a shop doesn't have them or says they've run out, let me know so we can send more. And by you asking about them, they'll be less likely to be pushed aside out of the way!

We've added another GOLD level sponsor!! Thank you to Cupcake Quilts for once again supporting our show!

Janis LaRoque is taking over the "Volunteers" job this year, long held by Mary Van Speybroeck, and will be ready to sign you up for your preferred jobs beginning at the August meetings. There are lots of places where we will need help at the show, as well as for several days in advance. If you haven't volunteered in the past and are unsure of what's involved, please step up and ask!!

Tin Can Raffle – We've had several people offer to help with different aspects of this project. Although the team is not yet complete, it's not too soon for you to think of what you can donate! Many of our Bees are most generous in creating baskets to be in the raffle, but there are other ways you can contribute. Don't hesitate to donate individual items you may have and let our volunteers get creative in how they bundle them into beautiful baskets. Or do you have an item that can be auctioned by itself? Not everything needs to be in a basket. For example, my husband has agreed to make a wooden quilt ladder for the raffle. If you have questions, please continue to direct them to me for the time being as we sort out the division of tasks!

Thanks to Kathie Williams stepping forward, we will be able to have advance ticket sales for the show. It's always a big help for our members to spread the word by selling those tickets to friends and neighbors in advance! And with our show being in January this year, how about using them for holiday gifts?? Look for them to be available at the September meeting.

The QGGH Summer Retreat was recently held at Camp Lone Star in La Grange. We had a fun and relaxing weekend of fellowship, delicious meals, and creativity. There were lots of eye candy creations to see. Some of us were able to work on our projects and come away with finished creations. There were pillowcase kits provided by Janet Becker for Comforters. Lois Cleveland provided kits for bags, placemats, and coasters for our quilt show boutique in January. Ice cream sundaes and brownies were enjoyed both Saturday and Sunday evenings. It was great to socialize and get to know retreaters better. The swimming pool was available Saturday afternoon which was enjoyed by all who took advantage of it. Once again, the camp chef, Matilda, provided retreaters with delicious meals each day, and Lorri was our wonderful hostess. Thank you to all of my committee members, Tedi Armet, Debbie McHolick, Laura Hodges, Betsy Willard, and Jackie Hillman, who helped with the weekend.

Our next retreat is Thursday, September 15, thru Sunday, September 18. Registration has begun and will continue until August 31. The registration form is available online and in the newsletter. Linda Stokes is teaching us how to make the “by Annie” pattern, Pack It In 2.0. You can see a photo of the Pack it In Bag on page 11 in the Show and Tell Section. She is providing a kit for $25, but it must be ordered through her by August 26th, or you can buy supplies yourself. I will send you the info if you are interested in the class. Linda will need to know the color of your zipper and mesh if you purchase the kit. You will provide the fabrics used in construction of the project, and there is homework to be done before the class. Linda promises that the bag can be made in one day. As always, you can do your own thing.

Retreats are a great way to meet and get to know our members. Sign up is available online, too. You may pay for retreats by credit card or Zelle. If you are paying by check, please mail everything to my home address. If you can't come to this retreat, mark your calendar for the Winter Retreat, February 9-12, 2023 (Super Bowl Weekend). We hope that you will join us for a relaxing and fun weekend.

This week, I delivered quilts to the Halo House and to Ronald McDonald House. Last month, I also gave to Texas Children's Hospital. When I delivered the quilts yesterday, it seemed ludicrous to be delivering quilts in this heat. But the organizations were so excited to receive them. Being inside with air conditioner and being ill, our quilts give comfort and love when needed in any kind of weather. I hope to be delivering quilts to Sleep in Heavenly Peace in the next couple of weeks. I took kits for pillowcases to retreat and so far have 21 completed pillowcases. I know more are on their way.

If anyone is interested in quilting, I do need quilters. I am a bit behind, having lots of tops with batting and backing ready for quilting. Let me know if you would like to quilt and if you will be at upcoming meetings. I will be glad to bring you a bundle.

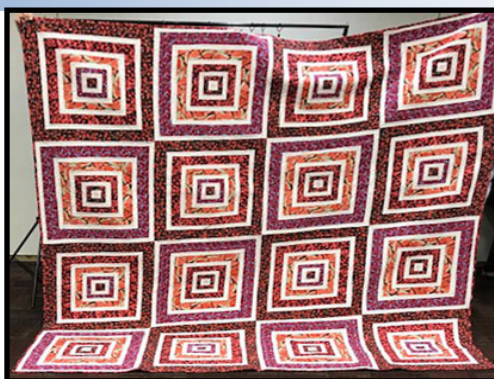

Over 30 pillowcases were made by our members at the QGGH Retreat in July! These were donated to Sleep in Heavenly Peace

“Ellen and Kelly, Friends Forever”. This quilt is based on a photograph taken of me and my friend Kelly in 2011 at Seacrest Beach, Fl. I started the quilt in 2012 to honor our long friendship. Kelly battled cancer on and off since 1986. Her cancer came back in her early 50’s. She endured a lot of treatments before passing away June 10, 2020 at the age of 61. I finally got the courage to get this done and finished June 6, 2022. This is UFO #4.

Learn to Quilt Booth

International Quilt Festival is approaching. The dates are Wednesday, Nov. 2(Preview Night) through November 6, 2022.

Did you know the Learn to Quilt Booth at Festival originated 45 years ago and was initiated by the QGGH. We have sparked the love of quilting for over 3000 people that have joined us in this booth. The purpose of the Booth is to teach the basics of quilt making to the students who want to learn and help them learn enough to get them started. Our “students” are given a kit with necessary supplies and walk away from the booth with a finished small quilt, an understanding of the basics of quilt making, and a smile on their face. We serve children through senior adults. PLEASE CONSIDER VOLUNTEERING YOUR TIME BY WORKING ONE OR MORE SHIFTS DURING FESTIVAL. It is so much FUN and you will be blessed.

Volunteers are needed to help set up the booth, work in the booth during Festival, and to help take the Booth down on Sunday at closing. If you would like to volunteer, contact Donna M. Pyle, by e-mail (donnampyle@hotmail.com), telephone (713-772-8261), or text (713-854-5316).

A Rhapsody, a Menagerie, and some Top Winners!

May 12-September 18, 2022 will be Ricky Tims: A Rhapsody of Quilts, Timna Tarr's Noble Menagerie, and Quilt Festival Prizewinners 2021.

Bohemian Rhapsody (90" x 90") by Ricky Tims.

In Gallery III, Ricky Tims: A Rhapsody of Quilts presents 11 pieces highly regarded as excellent examples of contemporary quilt art with traditional appeal. Tims is also a renowned musician, and many of his quilts have musical references. As he was working on Bohemian Rhapsody using hand-dyed fabrics, the composition developed with a very Eastern European flare. The rhythmic movement and harmonious shapes in this quilt encouraged the artist to design and make an entire series of Rhapsody Quilts, which resulted in his book of the same title.

Gallery II will showcase 12 works in Timna Tarr's Noble Menagerie.

Tarr, who resides in Massachusetts, comes from a long line of quilters but did not begin quilting until after studying art history in college.

Her own work is chiefly about color, in relatively small-format compositions. What keeps her engaged is watching how her projects change and transform with the addition of each color and texture.

Noble Menagerie began as a way for Tarr to explore making quasi-realistic fabric portraits of farm animals. Moving through the series, she realized that the images highlight the dignity and individual personalities in each animal, reflected in her highly original titles. The construction process starts with a blown-up photograph and ends with her piecing together the eye. Tarr explains that she needs to get to know each animal before tackling "the window to the soul."

Lady Teela of Amherst

Leap of Faith (36" x 55") by Kestrel Michaud

Finally, Gallery I will present Festival Prizewinners 2021, featuring 11 stunning quilts from makers who won prizes in the inaugural Quilt Festival Judged Show in a variety of categories and styles. Showcasing exquisite hand and machine stitching, the designs include abstract, pictorial, and geometric compositions. The makers are Marilyn Badger, Judith Beaver, Andrea Brokenshire, Audrey Esarey, Chizuko Ito, Jill Kerttula, Karen Lambdin, Kestrel Michaud, Sue Sherman, Chinami Terai, and Joann Webb. This juxtaposition of art quilts with contemporary traditional styles celebrates the exciting gamut of quilting today.
