MARCH 2024

Letter from the Editor

DEAR QUILTERS,

In this month's newsletter, you will find an abundance of pictures submitted by members for Show and Tell. There is so much talent in our guild and we are fortunate to be among people who love to share our passion.

Each month I will share my Editor's Pick to highlight one quilt by allowing more space on a single page. This month's Editor's Pick is an entry by Suzie Foote. What I love about this quilt is that it has a variety of methods incorporated to make various pictorial areas of focus. Suzie did a fantastic job at harnessing the tranquility of the beach all on to one beautiful piece of art.

Don't forget to send in your Sunshine and Shadows!

With Gratitude,

Emerald

Spring is on the horizon! As beautiful as autumn foliage is, the spring greens and flowers outshine it for me. I guess it's the reemergence of life after a dormant period, anyway as dormant as it gets here in our part of the world! Celebrate the holidays coming soon. Embrace their deep meanings. Thrive.

Charlotte Betts reports that 52 members had a great time at the Retreat! The class Bret Adams taught was fun, the food was delicious, and 8 attended for the first time. More people now know the secret about how wonderful our guild retreats are. We host retreats 3 times a year and hope you will all try to attend at least one!

Thanks to Christy Andrews, 1st VP of Programs, for presiding over the February business meeting. Our board is busy evaluating a new platform and planning, catching up, and learning their respective positions. The quilt show committee continues to put all of the pieces together, working as a team toward our goal of holding a successful quilt show in January.

The programs at our meetings have been phenomenal! Minay Sirois and Lea McComas gave us a glimpse into how their perspectives can give us a new direction as we design and execute new projects. This month we have Mike Ellingson and Sam Hunter. Mike's work is inspired by the Iowa area he calls home, and his program is Quilts from the Driftless. Sam will help us by giving suggestions on How to Organize a Maximalist Studio – I'll be taking notes!

Looks like we have plenty of opportunities to get out and about. As if the call of Bluebonnet Season isn't enough, we have Houston Rodeo, regional quilt shows and even city and state-wide shop hops. Let's support our sister guilds and help keep our quilt shops in business. And, enjoy the journey!

Hope you've chosen your quilt show projects, made a timeline, and enjoy the process as we prepare for our January show. Have you decided on your challenge subject – what brings you joy?

With that, have a fabulous month! See you soon!

Happy sewing,

Sharon Kralj

Mike Ellingsen
“Quilts from the Driftless”

Location: Zoom Only

Mike is a retired music teacher who found a second love in quilting. His quilts use bold color and graphic designs and he sells patterns for many of them. “Quilts from the Driftless” is a trunk show of Mike’s quilts that are inspired by the area he lives in. Decorah, Iowa is in the part of the Midwest that was not scraped by glaciers, hence a driftless topography. Quilters can find inspiration anywhere, even Iowa!

How to Organize a Maximalist Craft Studio

Our daytime meeting speaker will be flying all the way across the radio waves inside the Meeting Room to appear via the modern wonders of the Internet, thereby using way less of a carbon footprint to give us her pearls of wisdom and nuggets of quilting gold. Sam holds an MFA in Fiber Arts, is a modern quilter, pattern designer, and author. Additionally, Sam teaches business classes and mentors others. She offers lots of patterns and notions on her website and writes a newsletter.

A collection of announcements from the community

The international magazine Quiltmania issue 159 featured Father of Lights by Lois Kindley, Blue Spruce by Emerald Romo, side by side in their article on The International Quilt Festival Houston. Now THAT was pretty cool!!

Janice Shindeler's Animal Insanity Best of Category at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo

A new Bee, the Piecemakers, has been born. This bee was created by Emerald Romo and meets in Missouri City once a month.

The Piecemakers have volunteered to make a quilt for the Joy of Quilts Online Auction 2025. The quilt is Indian Orange Peel by Karen K. Stone Quilts and finishes at 63" x 63". The pattern uses the foundation paper piecing method.

Janice Schindeler

Joy of Quilts Show 2025

My fingers are sore from sewing!! Are yours? Hope everyone is hard at work making fantastic quilts for our BIG SHOW on January 17 and 18, 2025!

Are you thinking about making a quilt for our online auction? Great!! Our auction queen Mary Van Speybroeck has revamped (as in lowered!!) the minimum bid levels and shortened the length of the auction.

Not keen on making a full-size quilt? No worries, she will happily accept adorable baby quilts! How about a good-looking quilted tote bag? “Yup,” says Mary.

We love the stories behind your quilts and so do the bidders. If you are making an auction quilt keep track of things like how many different fabrics, how many yards of thread, and how many hours were spent creating your marvelous piece. Funny little stories that might entice people to bid!!!

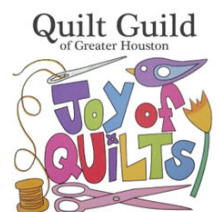

Plans are to use the app artcall.org for online registration. The judging chairs (Lois Cleveland, Karen Benson) and curator (Lisa Mastroiano) have assured me that the app will generate all the necessary paperwork we need to make our show one smooth and fabulous success. If you are a Nervous Nelly when it comes to computers – no worries – starting in the summer we will have computers at the meeting and we will happily help you enter your quilt into the show.

Debi Mishael, our vendor coordinator, has sweetened the deal for early registration vendors. While you are out and about at area guild shows and you see a unique and interesting vendor please grab their card and give it to Debi!!

And the publicity team (Shirley Hunter, Rookaya Goolam, and yours truly) needs your help. Got a local or neighborhood paper? Let us know about it. Bring us a copy. We want to reach out to the greater Houston area and we think the local papers are a great way to do that. Plus most of them have online calendars and we think they would be a great place to list our event.

Any questions? Any suggestions? Reach out to me! And keep stitching!!

- Janice Schindeler

JOY OF QUILTS ONLINE AUCTION

Mary Van Speybroek

Join Our Online Auction: A Celebration of Craftsmanship and Creativity!

We are thrilled to announce our upcoming Online Quilt Auction, where creativity, craftsmanship, and community meet!

- Date: January, 15 – 21, 2025
- Entry Deadline: November 30, 2024
- Turn In Date: December 10 at the Holiday Party

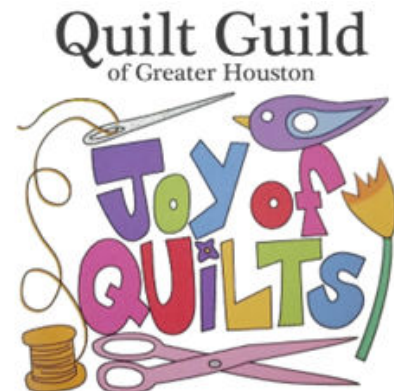

Why should you enter an auction quilt?

- 1. Showcase Your Talent: This is your chance to showcase your quilts or your Bee's quilts. Whether you specialize in traditional patterns, modern designs, or experimental techniques, we welcome all styles and sizes.
- 2. Support a Worthy Cause: Proceeds from this auction will benefit QGGH and all that we do!

If any questions, please send an email to itadmin@qgghouston.org. Stay tuned for more details.

Happy Quilting!

RETREATS

CHARLOTTE BETTS

QGGH WINTER RETREAT
February 8-11, 2024

CAMP LONE STAR, LA GRANGE, TX

2024 Retreats

- ★ SUMMER RETREAT
JULY 12-15, 2024
- ★ FALL RETREAT
SEPTEMBER 12-15, 2024
- ★ WINTER RETREAT
TBD

Our fall retreat was a roaring success at Camp Lone Star in La Grange. Fun is a fitting description for the retreat. There were 52 members in attendance. There was lots of shopping at the local quilt stores, visits to the Texas Quilt Museum, perfect weather (yes, we had a little rain), delicious food, laughter, and inspiration. It was a great weekend and many made new friends. We had 7 newbies who are looking forward to the next retreat. The lake had benefitted from all of the recent rain. We had several retreaters who came from the east and New Orleans.

It was great to see Lisa Mautz, Lois Cleveland and her daughters, Cynthia and Sarah. Bret Adams introduced the retreaters to a new medium using pigment powders and textile medium to create a painted piece for a wall-hanging, pillow, or bag. There were 30 ladies who were game to trying something new. The pieces created were spectacular. Everyone was so pleased with the results. Bret was gracious and generous in that she provided all of the supplies needed at no cost to the participants. It was a wonderful workshop. The membership will be treated to the creations during our meeting show and tell in the future.

Our next retreat will be July 12-15, 2024. Registration will begin May 1st. A contract has been signed for our Fall Retreat. The dates are September 12-15, 2024. More information will be coming in the future. We would love to have you sign up. Our retreats are relaxing and laid back.

Volunteer Hours

Many thanks to everyone who contributed to Comforters this month. Comparing our numbers to last year at this time, we are off to a better start. Let's keep up the good work.

The February Quilt Retreat was fun. Retreaters were working on Comforters all over the room. I'd look up, and someone would be bringing me a new completed project! Of course, while at the retreat, I went shopping. I don't really buy much (due to Comforter fabric overload at my house), but I enjoy looking.

Sometimes, I will buy a back for a quilt top that I just can't match with something I have. So... at Meme's Quilts in Giddings, I found some fabric in the "sale" bin. The store was already having a 40% sale and this was the end of the bolt which was an additional discount. I said "Why not? It will be for a charity quilt." When the owner heard me say this, she said, "Oh well, it's yours – no charge." Thank you, Meme's Quilts! Our guild appreciates your contribution.

I am starting to work on kits for Charity Quilt Day in July. I am planning to use a pattern that uses a layer cake or 20 – 10 inch square coordinating fabrics. If you have a layer cake you would like to donate to Comforters, I will gladly accept it. The sooner, the better as I want to start putting kits together. Thank you.

Library traffic has been brisk! In February, we returned to the storage locker between meetings to restock the travel bin. We also had 2 “hold” requests for books on the shelves in storage that we could deliver to happy members.

Our website list is being utilized! The library book list is once again updated and back to an Excel file that you may download and sort however you like. We also have a printed list available at meetings to look at. Speak with or Email the librarians and we can try to get your requests for the next month’s meeting.

We would like to thank the following people for their generous donations of books to the library: Marsha Franty, Lynne Gevirtz, Linda Hopwood, Peg Ingebretson, Sharon Kralj, and Sara Norris. These materials help our library grow.
