

Story Strips

by Deb Lund

Use these story strips to start stories, or create your own story strips. Later, keep, change, or delete the story strip.

I put it in my pocket.

A guitar played...

I said yes, but I should have said no.

If I could only remember...

It looked like an ordinary restaurant.

Where had I heard that voice?

I didn't know what to say.

She took off her mask.

The train left the station...

I turned it down.

Please don't...

I couldn't hang on...

Why do you care?

The sunset...

We were at the...

It was so hot that day.

I can't stand another minute...

The invitation said...

Where am I?

I had no idea...

There was nothing I could do about it.

The darkness...

If I could do it all over again...

The phone rang.

He was the last person I wanted to see.

I addressed the letter.

Where I come from...

May I help you?

I hate it when I'm wrong.