FUNDAMENTALS OF DE-SLOPPING

DE-SLOPPING IS THE PROCESS OF REMOVING MIX WATER INSIDE THE TANK THAT COMES FROM TANK WASHING. DUE TO THE HIGH PRESSURE OF WATER USED IN TANK WASHING, A HUGE VOLUME OF WATER GETS MIXED WITH THE OILS IN THE TANK. THIS IS CONSIDERED AS HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCE THAT SHOULD BE DEALT WITH PROPERLY AND ACCORDING TO THE STANDARD PROCEDURES OF WASTE DISPOSAL. DUE TO OUR TECHNICAL EXPERTISE, WITH MARITIMESOLUTIONSLTD, YOU CAN TRUST THAT OUR DE-SLOPPING PROCESS IS SAFE AND PROPERLY PERFORMED.

ADVANTAGES OF DE-SLOPPING

- Slop and sludge are formed when the oil tanks of ship vessels are being “washed” and “cleaned”.
- More specifically, they exist when crude oil is being emulsified with water and chemicals. They present themselves as waste streams and are one of the worst problems faced by most companies in the marine, oil and gas industries.
- Similar to other heavy industries, the maritime industry has environmental responsibilities. Besides, there are also critical operational benefits to applying proper engineering systems cleaning procedures.
- A clean system on your vessel will ensure that it operates more efficiently while reducing the risk of corrosion damage to pipelines and storage tanks.
