What's Your E? Celebrating High School Futures

Renaissance West Community Initiative (RWCI) is a nonprofit focused on revitalizing the West Boulevard corridor through a comprehensive approach to community development. RWCI empowers families through a holistic approach centered on housing, education, health and wellness, and economic opportunity, serving approximately 1,300 residents and 700 students annually.

The initiative features mixed-income housing, a child development center, and the Renaissance West STEAM Academy, supporting residents from early childhood through middle school. These resources help create a stable foundation for families in the area.

Through access to healthcare, educational support, and workforce development, RWCI works to break the cycle of poverty and build a vibrant, self-sufficient community.
