

The rush hour that wasn't so rushed.

*One rainy morning,
when the brakes engaged,
the road listened*

*and asked the stoplights
to detour cars to new routes,*

which triggered the transit authority to adjust bus schedules and train crossings

*and told all the alarm clocks in Chicago
to go off eight minutes earlier.*

CISCO INTELLIGENT NETWORK
responsive roads

CISCO ROUTING
intelligent transportation

CISCO WIRELESS
dynamic scheduling

CISCO POWERED
CLOUD SERVICES
connected life

For more stories about how Cisco, our partners and the Internet of Everything are making cities more efficient, visit cisco.com/tomorrowstartshere

CISCO

TOMORROW starts here