

Thomas K. Mahan, M.D.
Bio

Dr. Mahan was born and raised on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Dr. Mahan attended the University of Maryland School of Medicine in Baltimore where he received his Doctor of Medicine degree and then received his General Surgery Specialty Training at Louisiana State University Medical Center in New Orleans. Dr. Mahan is a board-certified General Surgeon with the American Board of Surgery and is the co-owner of his private practice surgical group, Surgical Associates of Central Florida, PA in Winter Park where he has been practicing for over 20+ years.

Dr. Mahan currently holds positions as Chairman of the Department of Surgery for the AdventHealth Central Florida Division Hospitals and the Medical Director of AdventHealth Orlando Campus Robotics Program. He is also very involved with teaching medical students, PA students, surgical residents, and robotic surgeons. He is a member of the Office of Graduate Medical Education of AdventHealth, and is also an Associate Clinical Professor of Surgery at Florida State University College of Medicine.

Dr. Mahan and his family enjoy the year around opportunities Florida has to offer from barefoot water skiing, scuba diving, and fishing to boating off the coasts of Florida.

To find out more about Dr. Mahan and his specialties, please visit www.saocf.org or call 407-647-1331 for an appointment.