

Privacy Policy for Med-Line Medical Transport

At Med-Line Medical Transport, we value your privacy. This policy explains how we handle your information.

Information We Collect

Personal details you provide for transportation services.

How We Use Your Information

To provide transportation services, send updates and transactional communications related to your bookings.

Sharing of Information

We do not share your personal or mobile information with third parties for marketing or promotional purposes.

Your information is only used for providing our services and communication related to your transportation needs.

Data Security

We take steps to protect your information from unauthorized access.

We may update this policy. Changes will be posted here.

For questions, contact us!