

PLAY - interactive game table

Interactive games

Interactive, technology-based collaborative, playful learning has changed the nature of children's relationship with a device.

Our PLAY self-contained table offers a versatile, collaborative multi-touch gaming experience for people of all ages.

"Kids love it – they all say it's "cool." Every time I pass through the children's area it is being used. I've seen groups of children, as well as parents and children playing.

We have a group of adults with learning disabilities who have been coming to the library for a long time. They have discovered the PLAY table and it has become a popular stop for them."
