PRESS RELEASE

Date: 17 May 2022

The SugarCreek Photography Gallery serves as one of the region's newest art venues, located in the quiet village of Bellbrook, Ohio. Its well-lit walls display the works of many of the Miami Valley's most skilled and renowned photographers. In fact, the gallery is quickly gaining a reputation for astonishing first-time visitors with an amazing array of photographic works on canvas, metal, as well as traditional matted and framed prints, all presented in a comfortable gallery setting.

The gallery's ten photographers offer a variety of subjects and styles, from vivid Dayton skylines and iconic landmarks, stop-action wildlife shots, subtle landscapes and quiet waterscapes, graceful dancers in urban ruin, stunning still life prints, western monotone scenes, beautiful digital artistry, plus much more. In all, over 300 framed prints adorn their gallery walls with another 200 ready-to-frame prints displayed for additional browsing. The SugarCreek Photography Gallery makes decorating your home, office, or business an easy affair.

In addition to being great photographers, the group offers tons of experience producing prints on various materials, in different sizes, and most of them have large inventories of additional images if you're looking for something a little different.
