B.WinA's self-penned inaugural release, 'THE WAY' is a timely relevant expression with powerful messaged lyrics focusing on youth, families, core value systems and understanding such. Based on personal experiences, 'THE WAY' is a reflection of Winter's life, poetically shared. "The song title is an acknowledgment of my journey, things I've witnessed, suffered through and participated in," said Winter. "The song was written during very trying times. 'THE WAY' became a realization that these situations, although my truths, are not exclusive to me. Everyone is walking through their own personal fire."

Produced by multi-Juno award winner, Charles 'Tower' Sinclair, with mixing and engineering by Jeffrey Holdip, 'THE WAY' was recorded, backwards to front emphasizing the last moments of emotional energy, first. "Sometimes when you walk backwards you see the world in a different light," said Sinclair. "Brent's passion dictated the process of recording; this is a story about his life; it's meaningful, and we wanted the entire track to resonate his passion consistently."

Winter's commanding vocal presence is wrapped in piano, violin and percussive sounds. 'THE WAY' takes hold and encourages the listener to, "..strive to make a change."
