

THE CHURCHMOUSE

Windsor Presbyterian Church

February 2023

To the Flock . . .

In the Luke, the disciples come to Jesus with a request we can relate to, “Teach us how to pray.” Most of us feel like we don’t know how to pray or that our prayers are not quite good enough. As a pastor, I am often asked to provide resources for prayer. Though there are many books and resources, I am convinced that learning to pray is a lot like learning to ride a bike. The only way to learn is to get on the bike and make those first few halting attempts and then to stay with it until you have the feel of it in your bones.

Prayer works in a similar way. It is helpful to have some basic understanding of how it works, and maybe someone nearby to steady you, pick you up when you fall and cheer you on, but the only way to learn to pray is to hop on the prayer bike, start pushing on the pedals and stay with it until you feel the wind in your face and the balance in your being.

My Renovaré Spiritual Formation Bible defines prayer simply as “Interactive conversation with God about what we and God are thinking and doing together.” This prayer conversation is an essential element of living life with God at the center. God makes this life with God and prayer possible. This relationship is not our doing but God’s. Jesus came as Immanuel, the title meaning “God with us.” Jesus is our savior, our redeemer, making known and making real God’s intent for humans—that we would be with God, that God would dwell with and in us. WOW!

If prayer is at its most basic communication with God, it stands to reason that we may communicate with God in at least as many ways as we communicate with each other, which is limitless. We can celebrate the latest happenings, lament the state of the world, whine about our latest injury (physical, emotional or social), rage at injustice (or at God), remember past glories or look forward to coming days, ask for what we need, express appreciation, or simply sit in companionable silence. A necessary component of good conversation is active listening—leaning in, listening for what is said and what remains unsaid.

The same is true in prayer. In the quiet, what is God saying to you? For many, learning to listen is the most difficult part of the conversation.

There are many examples of prayer in scripture, notably the Book of Psalms and Jesus’s teaching on prayer in Matthew 6:5-15. Jesus says prayers aren’t supposed to be impressive or full of unnecessary words because God already knows what we need. He gives them a model for prayer which we know as The Lord’s Prayer.

Our familiarity with that prayer can keep us from plumbing the depths of its simple phrases. He

Discipleship (Belonging & Christian Formation)

Angie King

Sunday School

February provides you with lots of opportunities to gather with your fellow Windsor Presbyterians. Sunday School meets every Sunday morning at 9:15 in Ward Hall. We have discussed archaeology, extreme weather, people helping people, outer space, morality, art appearing in Ukraine on destroyed buildings, and many other interesting topics. Each week, we read and talk about scripture and how it relates to our subject and our lives. Our conversations are lively and thought provoking. The coffee's always ready, so pull up a chair and join us.

Book Club

The Book Club has been meeting on Wednesday evenings at 6:00 during WOW time and will continue on for the first three weeks in February. We are discussing the book Atlas of the Heart, by Brene Brown. Please join us using the WOW link.

Lent Starts February 22

Ash Wednesday is February 22, and Shamaine and the Windsor Methodist pastor are planning a combined service as we did a few times before COVID. WOW will kick off on March 1 with a Lenten study. More information on these activities will be provided as plans are firmed up.

Presbyterian Women

Presbyterian Women took a break in January. Our next meeting is Saturday, February 18, at 10:00 in Ward Hall. We'll discuss Lesson Five, Sabbath and Servitude. The Discipleship Team plans to present some new ideas about PW, so you'll want to be there to hear all about it. We hope to have a good turnout of the Wonderful Women of Windsor!

Men on a Mission

A field trip to the DMARC Food Pantry warehouse was on the agenda for Men on a Mission in January. Ask one of the guys in the men's group about it. They learned so much, such as that there are 35,000 food insecure people in Des Moines, and the vast majority of those seeking food assistance are employed but their jobs don't pay well enough to provide enough food for their families.

The next meeting of Men on a Mission is Thursday, February 9, at 11:30 a.m. in Ward Hall. Our speaker is Dave Applegate from Fellowship of Christian Athletes. (Dave is the son of Denny & Judy Applegate, who took our donate Bibles to Mission Cry International.) John Baker will also share about a ministry he is involved with in FCA. Lunch will be provided. Men are encouraged to bring a friend.

Did You Know?

February makes me think of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Black History, and valentines. But did you know that little old February is so much more? It's also Potato Lovers Month, Great American Pie Month, Canned Food Month, Adopt a Rescued Rabbit Month (who thinks of this stuff anyway!), and National Grapefruit Month. So, go ahead and celebrate by eating potatoes and grapefruit, baking a pie, and playing with your adopted rescue rabbit!

Enjoy!

Star Words

Have you gotten your 2023 star word yet? It's not too late. You may stop by the church to pick one up or call the office and one will be mailed to you.

God so loved the world. The world is a beautiful, holy and sacred place where we can encounter God in creation and in each other. God meets with us moment by moment in the ordinary and the extraordinary.

New: Sacred Moments to Deepen Your Faith

Remain in Me, as I also remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in Me. I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in Me and I in you, you will bear much fruit; apart from Me you can do nothing. (John 15:4-5, NIV)

Website:

Take a look at our website and you will find a new section called "Sacred Moments." This page is a Worship Space that features contemplative writings, reflections, artwork, photography, poetry, prayers, scripture, and a music playlist to deepen your faith and abide in HIm. Many of these writings, artwork and poetry will be written and shared by members of Windsor Presbyterian Church. Sacred Moments will frequently be updated, so visit our website often!

Newsletter:

Quarterly you will also receive a newsletter that will expand upon and provide guidance on a spiritual practice, such as prayer, meditation, fasting, bible study, generosity, solitude, simplicity, fellowship and celebration. Our hope is that this newsletter can easily be shared with others simply by forwarding it on, and letting others know that they can sign up for the Sacred Moments Newsletter right on the website page. What a great opportunity to share with friends, family, co-workers these moments of sacred reflections that bring us closer to the Holy One.

Outreach (Mission & Generosity)

Beth Schmitz

Greetings from Outreach. Our little neighborhood food pantries are continuing and any non-perishable food items are welcome throughout the coming months. Be sure that they are winter friendly for now and won't freeze. You can leave them in the Food Pantry cart. It would be great if everyone could bring just one item each Sunday that you attend.

We are also still honoring our commitment to the DMARC Food Pantry. The third Sunday of the month is the official Sunday for collection, but monetary or item donations can be made at any point in the month. We have set a goal to raise $5,000 in 2023 for the DMARC Food Pantry. Please be considering how much you can share to help address the food needs in the community.

Linda, John & Jim prepare the CFUM meal on Jan. 5.

In January, volunteers prepared and delivered 150 meals for CFUM. Linda and Jim Newsom thank everyone for their support and share that this volunteer support is essential to the mission.

The Christmas Joy special offering was collected in December to support current and retired church workers and their families with critical financial needs, as well as students in Presbyterian-related schools and colleges equipping communities of color. We raised $1,205.00. Thank you to all who contributed.

We are considering donations to area organizations for the coming year, with the goal of contributing $4,500.00 throughout the course of the year to worthy organizations that are supporting the needs of the community. The committee will be making decisions in February about what organizations that we will be supporting, with the goal of supporting 18 different programs. We welcome input from anyone on organizations or projects that you would like to see us support. Please let me or one of the committee members know by February 3 if you have thoughts about this.

Thank you for all you do to support our mission and community outreach. We could not do the good we do in the community without your help.

January Session Highlights Angie King

The Session met on January 12 with all members present. Each elder presented their ministry team reports, which you can read in the Churchmouse. We discussed the Capital Campaign that is happening now to raise money for roof replacements, brick tuck-pointing, new doors for Ward Hall, and other needs which could be considered if funds are sufficient. If you haven't yet made your contribution to this extremely important project, please consider doing what you can.

A sanctuary preparation team will be reconstituted to get everything ready for Sunday worship. Since we returned to the church after COVID, our Sunday morning routines were changed a little bit, such as leaving the collection plate outside the sanctuary for folks to deposit their offerings. We're going to once again present the elements - the light of Christ, the water of new life, the table of memory, and the book of God's love. Also, the offering will once again be taken during the service. If anyone would be willing to help with the sanctuary prep team, please talk to Laura.

We discussed the Girls Rock group which is using our church for their meetings. They occupy two rooms upstairs right now, but during the summer, when they have their camps, they will be spreading out to use other places. You'll be hearing more about that as the time approaches. We're so glad to have them filling up our church with kids and music!

Worship & Personnel

Laura Ward

As I write this, I am looking forward to our annual meeting. We are fortunate that a church of our size has been able to retain staff members and even add new duties. To have such devoted people is a huge blessing.

We had a beautiful season of Advent and Christmas. Take a nice cleansing breath now. Lent and Easter will be here before you know it! Worship Committee and Worship Team met together to map out some dates and services for the coming year. We also arrived at communion dates, which will be submitted for the Session to approve at the next meeting.

A new committee has been formed to lay out the tasks involved with staging the sanctuary each week for worship. We will soon be seeking volunteers to help with that. If you want to run upstairs to ring the bell before the service or set glasses of water out for the stage participants, please let me know. If each of us takes on one little thing, it will stay easy instead of arduous. More information to follow!

Please help us celebrate the 90th birthday for Nancy Snyder with a cake party in Ward Hall after worship on February 12. Please be thinking about a best memory or funny experience to write on a note card (provided) at the reception.

We extend our Christian heartfelt sympathy to the family of Helen Harano Christ, aunt of Beth Adams and wife of former Des Moines Presbytery pastor, Frank Christ, who died on Friday Jan. 13, 2023. Frank died in 2013 and had served the church in Madrid, Iowa. Longtime members might remember Helen Christ or Jody's cousins, Mary Kay, Allen and Steve.

We also pray for the family of Bart Blake, father of our accountant Deb Hibbert. Bart passed away on Friday, January 6, after a fall. May God's love surround the family at this time.

(To add or remove a name, contact the church office.)

Budget & Financial Stewardship

Richard Ankeney

December was a positive month for the church Operating Account. Total income, including $16,569.21 in contributions and $3,000.00 in stock dividends, paid yearly in December, was $22,715.21. Total expenses were $19,198.30 for a net income gain of $3,516.91.

The Budget and Financial Stewardship Committee met Thursday, January 5, and finished work on the 2023 budget. The committee also discussed the best way to collect the offering during worship, as the method used since returning from online only worship has been inconsistent and confusing for some visitors. The committee decided to return to the traditional method of passing the offering plate, rather than leaving a plate in the hallway.

Building & Grounds

Don Beeson

Great news, Windsor congregation! The very old worn-out and frustrating roof over East Hall is in the process of being replaced. This roof has been a problem for years. Many past Building and Grounds Committees have patched, tarred, and provided hours of clean-up, after various leaks over the years. There are also problems of discoloration of the exterior brick facing and water seeping behind the brick, due to the roof condition. We appreciate the Session agreeing to a recommendation of the Building and Grounds Committee that action be taken during 2023 for this major repair. The congregation does not have a financial reserve at any given moment for such expenditures; therefore, a request was made to the congregation in December to raise funds for the two flat roofs and other repair needs. With the completion of these projects, our roofing needs should not be a concern for many years into the future.

The expense to replace the sanctuary roof was through our insurance coverage, due to the wind and hailstorm damage of last August. This work was completed in November. The retaining wall along 63rd Street incurred damage by an automobile striking the north end of the block wall. The motorist's insurance company has paid for repairs, which have been completed. The year 2023 has begun with positive activity, thanks to all who have assisted.

Celebrations (Special Events & Visibility)

Jody Cox

As we welcome in 2023, our 100-Year Celebration will continue. It is really special to be in our 100 years of worshipping at Windsor Church. Nothing specific is planned right now, but if you have any ideas please share them with me. We will continue to partner with the City of Windsor Heights where possible.

If you would like to see more Windsor Moments, please provide me with information you would be willing to share.

Be sure to check our website about the 100-Year Celebration as Natalie posts new information regularly.

Here is that link: <https://windsorpc.org/>.

Announcing A Uke Happening

Next Sunday, February 5, from 2:30-4:00 pm, everyone is invited to ArtHouse's first A Uke Happening! This is an outreach event for the community that will be held quarterly in Ward Hall.

It will be a fun afternoon of socializing, singing, and playing the ukulele (other instruments are welcome as well). Feel free to come even for a little while and get to know new friends! Bring neighbors, co-workers and family. There will be music and fun for all ages!

Choir Anyone?

If you are interested in being a part of a musical singing group, then Tone Up Choir is for you! We have been asked to join the choir at Westminster Presbyterian Church for a special Lenten Service on Thursday, March 23. Music and Arts Director from Westminster Presbyterian, Aaron Schultz, will be directing the piece "A Feast Prepared: A Requiem by Amanda Husberg." We have also been asked to join a combined choir with Central Presbyterian Church for a Hymn Festival on Sunday afternoon, May 14, 2023, featuring Mark Sedio as the guest organist and director. This is one of many events to celebrate Central Presbyterian Church's 175th anniversary!

If you are interested in being a part of the choir and prepare for these events, tone up your voices, sing periodically for Windsor Presbyterian Church services or even consider being part of a men's or women's outreach vocal group, please contact Natalie Steenson at natalie@windsorpc.org. Let's see how we can "lift our voices together" to worship God.

says, pray in this way:

Our father who is in heaven,
uphold the holiness of your name.
Bring your kingdom
so that your will is done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us the bread we need for today;
And forgive us the things we owe,
as we too have forgiven what was owed to us.
And don't lead us into temptation,
but rescue us from the evil one. (Mt. 9-13, CEB)

This prayer is a model for how we should pray. First, it is a communal prayer. We always pray with and for others, even when we are alone. Life with God is never a solitary endeavor; it is always between God and you and others. When we ask for God's name to be holy, we are asking that our actions be in line with God's holiness, to maintain that set-apartness of doing right in the world. We ask that our actions might begin to make our world a little more in line with the heaven way of doing things. We don't ask for abundance but simply what we need for today, enough for us and enough for others, but not so much that we forget to rely on God.

Right on the heels of asking that our basic human necessities be provided, Jesus models asking for forgiveness, contingent on forgiving others. Whew! This may be putting the petition "as above, so below" into action. Though difficult to do, it is at the heart of living as Jesus models and requires. Knowing the demand of doing these things, the last request of the prayer is that we be utterly transformed, being led away from that which is evil and toward the changed way of living that comes in following Jesus.

If you want to learn to pray, this prayer is a great place to start. Begin by praying it phrase by phrase. Let it wash over you. Listen for what God might say to you. Breathe, be still, pay attention.

Then you might find other scriptures to pray. Simply read a line and let it be your prayer. You can turn to the prayerbook of the bible and find a psalm that speaks to you. Slowly pray those lines, letting them work on you, listening for what God may say to you through them.

You may be wondering, if God already knows what we need, why pray? Like any relationship, it's important to keep the lines of communication open, to say what we need, to express gratitude and love. These conversations change us, change our relationship with God and have power beyond our imagining to change the world.

Really, it doesn't matter as much how you pray as that you pray. Pray often. Put yourself in God's presence even if you don't feel like praying. Let the Spirit pray with and for you. Pray with your eyes open, contemplating the beauty of creation or pray with your eyes closed. Pray with others or pray alone. Doodle a prayer or scream one. Write a poem, a letter, a journal entry. Just take a moment to say "hello" to our creator.

In January, Natalie sent out the first edition of the Sacred Moments newsletter, which is on prayer. You can see it on our website and be led by its beauty deeper into prayer.

Congregational Meeting

Join us for our annual congregation meeting after worship on Sunday, January 29. Hear about all the great things that WPC has done in 2022. We will begin with a potluck lunch in fellowship hall. You are invited to bring a side dish to share.

In Memory of Curt Weatherby

Every minute someone leaves this world behind. Age has nothing to do with it. We are all in this line without realizing it. We never know how many people are before us. We cannot move to the back of the line. We cannot step out of the line. We cannot avoid the line. So while we wait in line:

Make moments count.

Make a difference.

Make the call.

Make priorities.

Make the time.

Make your gifts known.

Make a nobody feel like a somebody.

Make your voice heard.

Make the small things big.

Make someone smile.

Make the change.

Make yourself a priority.

Make love.

Make up.

Make peace.

Make sure to tell your people they are loved.

Make waves.

Make sure to have no regrets.

Make sure you are ready.

This world will often leave you wishing you had just 5 more minutes. Feel free to share this powerful reminder on perspective and wake up each day realizing it is a gift and to make the most of it!
