UNDERSERVED YOUTH SUMMER EDUCATION CAMP

---

SUMMER 2022
Hocking Hills, OH

At Success University, our goal is to change the world through matching people with passion. With your support we are building a troubled and underserved summer youth camp, called Camp Passion.

Psychology and epigenetics has taught us that if we change the environment, we change the outcome. If we teach and provide resources for inner city minority/underserved youth we can change the future for these children.

At camp passion, a free summer camp for high-risk youth, we will teach character, passion, goal setting, commitment, trust, through natural sciences. The use of natural sciences present, in rural America, youth will learn where and how we source food, how to be more sustainable and how to tap into the vast wealth of resources available to them in this life.

Your support, either monthly or a one-time can help change lives, brighten futures, and change the world.

We are also looking for educators, scientists, and natural sciences students to help in the realization of Camp Passion.
