To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Madeleine Barton for any future endeavors she decides to pursue following graduating from Baylor University. During her time working as a Marketing Intern at The Carlson Law Firm, she consistently impressed the staff with her dedication, creativity, and communication skills.

From the start, it was clear that Madeleine possessed a deep understanding of communication strategies and current marketing trends. She applied this knowledge diligently to any marketing project assigned, demonstrating an ability to craft compelling messages and graphics tailored to different audiences.

Madeleine brought fresh ideas to the team that contributed positively to our firm's marketing efforts. Whether it was drafting and editing content for our website, creating designs for both digital and traditional marketing campaigns, or helping with the execution of several community events, she consistently delivered high-quality work.

Moreover, Madeleine has excellent interpersonal skills that have allowed her to collaborate effectively with colleagues across departments. Her positive attitude and strong work ethic make her a valuable team member as well.

I have no doubt that Madeleine will excel in the future. Her academic background, combined with her practical experience and enthusiasm for the field, make her well-suited to contribute meaningfully to marketing initiatives.

Please contact me at 254-526-5688 or smoore@carlsonattorneys.com if you require any further information. I wholeheartedly recommend Madeleine Barton and am confident that she will be a valuable addition to any business in the future.

Sincerely,

Sarah Moore
