

About Your Presenter

Jim Hazelwood is a Senior

Project Engineer for 70e Advisors. Jim has over 40 years' experience in industrial control equipment and safety. He is a senior member of ISA® and holds their highest-level certification, Certified Automation Professional (CAP). He also maintains a Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification from PMI® and is a member of the ASSE®. He is CESCP certified through the NFPA®.

His educational background includes an A.S. degree in Industrial Electronics, a B.S. degree in Computer Systems an M.S. degree in Electrical Engineering and a M.S. degree in Environmental Health & Safety (EHS). Jim is a recognized leader in Arc-Flash training and has provided training classes for hundreds of companies and associations throughout the USA.