When interpreting the work of philosophers and transforming their ideas into lyrical poetry I understand all too well how their ideas can become didactic. Compounded by my tone deaf vocal delivery, I have found in every project when I get to track 8 I am sure the listener needs a break. Ludwig Wittengenstein said it himself that “when one cannot speak, one should be silent”, having an instrumental track is the best way to respond!

Uncivil Society Music Manifesto:

1. Let us be inspired by the frequencies and vibrations that make life, and not constrained by the perceived ownership of something we all experience.
2. Do not be censored - be it yourself from expressing ideas aligned to your passion
3. Encourage and celebrate joyous active participation in your world.
4. Be open to to grow and change.
