A guy is sitting at home when he hears a knock at the door. He opens the door and sees a snail on the porch. He picks up the snail and throws it as far as he can. A year later, there's another knock at the door. The snail says, "What was that all about?"

Friend: "You need to stop overthinking everything." Me: "You're right. But what if I stop and then underthink something really important?"

A cheese factory exploded in France. Da-brie was everywhere.

One day Max went to see Carl. Carl had a big swollen nose. "Whoa, what happened, Carl?" Max asked. "I sniffed a brose," Carl replied. "What?" Max said. "There's no 'b' in rose!" Carl replied, "There was in this one!"

I only know 25 letters of the alphabet. I don't know y.

I got my significant other a fridge for Valentine's Day. You should've seen their face light up when they opened it!

Does anybody know any good Groundhog Day jokes? I feel like I just keep hearing the same ones over and over and over again.

The jury is holding on their verdict until after they see the lunch menu.

...

What's the best outfit for February 2nd? A tu-tu.

I asked the librarian if they had any books about paranoia. She whispered, "They're right behind you..."

Grandma, how many TV channels did you have when you were a kid?

About three and a half on a good day.

VALENTINE'S DAY: BUDGET EDITION

Love Coupon Book: Packed with treasures like "One night off dish duty" or "Redeem for my full attention, even if it's about office drama."

Dinner for Two: Also known as "sharing your fries."

Romantic Text: Send a heartfelt message like, "I don't hate sharing the remote with you." That's basically poetry.

Candlelit Takeout: Dim the lights, light a candle, and pretend your lukewarm burrito is haute cuisine.

Heartfelt Note: Stick it to their mirror with a message like, "You're my favorite coworker that I don't get paid to be around."

Dessert First: Skip the main course. Nothing says "I love you" like straight-up pie.

Budget Bouquet: Pick flowers from the yard (or someone else's—just run fast).

Movie Marathon: You pick the first one. They fall asleep halfway through the second. True romance.
