The students and I have a great relationship. However, now that I think about it, I tried sounding out each letter for a student and he was able to grasp the idea of reading. That was something I did not try before with this particular student. Students who I work with have an IEP and while it is important for the students to have 4 units in each month, I believe it is more important that they are understanding the work they are doing." * We have compromised that we will have weekly email correspondents, due to how busy she is.		4/15 - Other than that I am managing my time the best way that I can. I work until 4 and then do homework. School is going great, I am at the end, I have 2 weeks left and will be done. Which means I will get my CSET waiver and be able to get my sub permit. My plans are to continue with school to finish my masters degree and teaching credential. I was hoping to do my internship at OFY but will deal with that when the time gets near.
