

BENEFITS OF THE RED LIGHT

The red light wavelengths stimulate the skins natural process to counteract the effect of aging. The deeply penetrating light improves blood circulation and encourages collagen and elastin production to improve elasticity and diminish fine lines and wrinkles thereby generally improving skin tone and texture.

Benefits:

- Smooths fine lines and wrinkles
- Reduces acne scarring and heals blemishes
- Helps sun-damaged skin
- Improves irregular pigmentation
- Improves skin tone and texture
- Calms Rosacea

BENEFITS OF THE BLUE LIGHT

The blue light wavelengths are extremely effective in treating active acne by inhibiting/destroying acne causing bacteria responsible for inflammation of sebaceous glands within the skin. An acne treatment course usually consists of two 30 minute sessions a week for two weeks, followed by a single weekly 30 minute session.

The Rejuvalite treatment is also available as a stand-alone 30 minute treatment.

A home care regimen is imperative to good skin care. It is important to cleanse, tone and moisturize. Your esthetician will consult with you about what products will best serve your skin type. Be prepared to provide your esthetician with a list of the products you are currently using.

What is An IontoSonic Facial Treatment?

The IontoSonic is an extremely versatile skin care system. It is the ultimate skin-resurfacing tool and can be used on all skin types. It is as effective as microdermabrasion, but non-abrasive and does not harm live skin cells. It uses 28,000 pulses of ultrasound per second to deep cleanse, exfoliate, massage, lift and infuse water-soluble products, such as Vitamin C, deep into the skin. In addition, it gets rid of waste materials that accumulate on the skin while promoting metabolism by increasing blood circulation.

CLEANING PHASE:

During the cleansing phase, ultrasonic energy is transmitted through the pores to the deepest areas of the skin to remove residual make-up and deep-seated waste materials. It also serves as an exfoliator, removing dead skin cells and sebum while disinfecting and massaging the skin. With repeated treatments, superficial irregularities will be removed, causing the skin to look younger and healthier.

PERMEATION PHASE:

Traditionally, treatment with Vitamin C has been oral or topical with poor results. The IontoSonic delivers the Vitamin C to problem areas much more efficiently by delivering it deep into the dermis. This phase infuses Vitamin C and other water soluble materials deep into the dermis. Vitamin C helps rid the skin of unsightly pigmentation. Vitamin C helps with dehydration, fine lines, wrinkles and is stored in the skin for about 3 days.

LIFTING PHASE:

The lifting phase increases the blood supply and lymphatic flow by sending pulsed ultrasonic wavelengths combined with small amounts of positive and negative electrical charges to the skin. This creates a deeper level of stimulation, giving a maximum massage effect and resulting in healthier, younger skin that is smooth and elastic.

Who Shouldn't Get The Treatment?

- Children
- Clients who are pregnant
- Clients with pacemakers or electrical implants
- Clients with heart conditions
- Clients with epilepsy
- Clients with metal implants in the face

How often should I do it?

IontoSonic treatments can help diminish acne, aging, scarring and hyperpigmentation. Although you should see a noticeable improvement after only four treatments, a series of once a week for six weeks can reveal a dramatic improvement. There is no limit to the number of treatments that you can receive.

Add ons:

- Deep pore extractions can be added if necessary.
- Face & neck massage is a nice 10 minute finish to your IontoSonic.

ULTRASONIC LIFT

The UltraSonic lift helps cleanse, revitalize and balance the skin; increase cell metabolism and the circulation of lymph fluid; firms the skin; and stimulates the production of collagen and elastin.

Benefits:

- Skin revitalization
- Balancing of the skin cycle
- Increased cell metabolism
- Softens sebum making extractions easier
- Stimulates the development of collagen and elastin making skin more resilient

REJUVALITE

Rejuvalite is an anti-ageing, rejuvenating and healing treatment which harnesses the naturally positive effects of both red and blue light wavelengths to replenish and repair skin cells. Rejuvalite provides a safe and natural, non-invasive and highly effective treatment for:

Active Acne

Fine Lines & Wrinkles
