What is micro needling and what does it do for your face?

Micro needling is procedure that uses a roller with small needles to prick the skin. This treatment generates the production of new collagen and skin tissue for smoother, firmer, more toned skin. Micro needling is mostly used on the face and may treat issues including scars, wrinkles and large pores.

This process is sometimes called skin needling, collagen induction therapy (CIT), and percutaneous collagen induction (PCI).

Micro needling is used to treat and improve conditions including:

- ~ acne scarring
- ~ fine lines
- ~ wrinkles
- ~ loose skin
- ~ skin texture
- ~ pore size
- ~ brown spots
- ~ stretch marks
- ~ pigment issues.

What to expect:

A micro needling procedure takes about 10 to 15 minutes. Some clients experience slight swelling and redness.

What are typical results:

Many clients see noticeable results immediately, or within 24 hours.

Micro needling is safe:

This procedure is a very safe and effective treatment. A consultation with one of our qualified estheticians must be done prior to service to ensure the exact treatment is selected to meet the client's needs.

Follow-up treatment:

If your skin is sensitive after the treatment, a mild over-the-counter pain reliever may be used. Please check with your esthetician.

For the following 48 hours, use a gentle cleanser, moisturizer and sun block, and DO NOT use corrective or exfoliating products.

Your face may be red:

It's normal for your skin to be a little red after you've had micro needling done, but the majority of the redness should subside within 24 hours.

Good skin requires commitment:

To get the best results you must be dedicated to a good home care regimen, use quality skin care products with an emphasis on serums to nourish the skin, and follow up with your skin care professional's recommendations. And ALWAYS protect your face with the appropriate sun screen.
