Olimpos

The Olimpos collection represents 50 years of the history of a brand, of a shoe and of thousands of Spanish families. A collection that has also made history in sport, especially basketball and tennis.

Olimpos shoes are the result of a tireless quest for the best materials and production processes and an ergonomic design for maximum comfort and durability: the origin, masterful result, and main exponent of J'hayber's collaboration with its technological suppliers, who include INESCOP and the Institute of Biomechanics of the Polytechnic University of Valencia (IBV).

This is why the Olimpo was born, and continues to be, technically perfect, because it incorporates the most avant-garde technological, anatomical, medical, and sporting research into each new collection.

Thanks to the Olimpo, J'hayber has always been a leading Made in Spain brand, because the whole collection is, and always has been, made in the same factory, in the same place as always: Elche, Spain.

Comfort

The J'hayber "Comfort" collection includes an insole made from memory foam in a variety of densities, cushioning each step before recomposing itself for the next. This has the effect of enhancing both comfort and shock absorption and reducing walking fatigue.

J'hayber has 3 insoles in its collection: "Comfort Foam", "Comfort Feel" and "Comfort Fast". Each one provides different densities in the various parts of the sole, which means greater cushioning depending on the style of footwear, the target wearer and recommended use.

Both the sports and casual lines include models with "Comfort" insoles.

Comfort Foam is the original J'hayber insole. Its lightweight and flexible composition absorbs impact, making it the ideal insole for walking, thanks to its comfort, stability, cushioning and breathability.

The J'hayber Comfort Feel insole is made from a high-density foam, intensifying the feeling of comfort with each step, thanks to its spring-back effect, and ergonomic design that adapts to your foot perfectly.

Comfort Fast is the insole that is immediately comfortable. This new family has its origins in a memory foam insole with increased density, meaning greater cushioning for impact and, in turn, reduced fatigue thanks to the rapid spring-back effect of the foam.

Sport

J'hayber has been a sports brand from the very start, especially focused on tennis and basketball at a professional level. With our accumulated expertise, we have acquired extensive knowledge of our users' sporting requirements, meaning we can design and adapt to the most innovative and ergonomic developments for each sport, whether indoor or outdoor. Our sports footwear is aimed at moderate intensity users in sports such as running, trail and outdoor running, and at an advanced technical and professional level in padel.

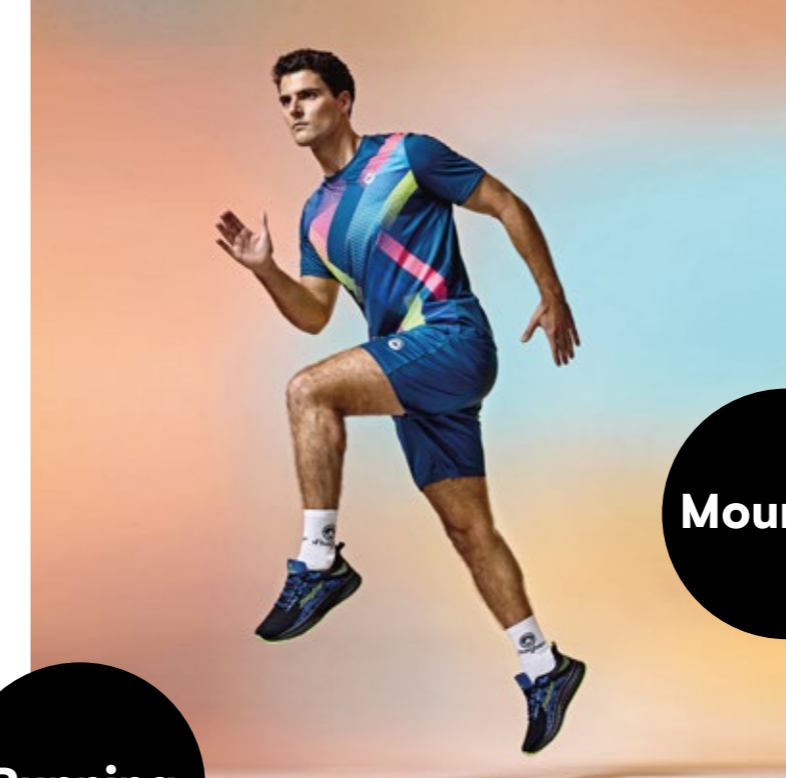

Aqua Repellent technology is a special water-repellent treatment applied to outdoor footwear that can stop moisture from penetrating inside.

The Dual Breathable Tech-mesh technology achieves bi-directional breathability in the fabric, through the effect of the dual cross mesh used in the body of these shoes, keeping your foot dry.

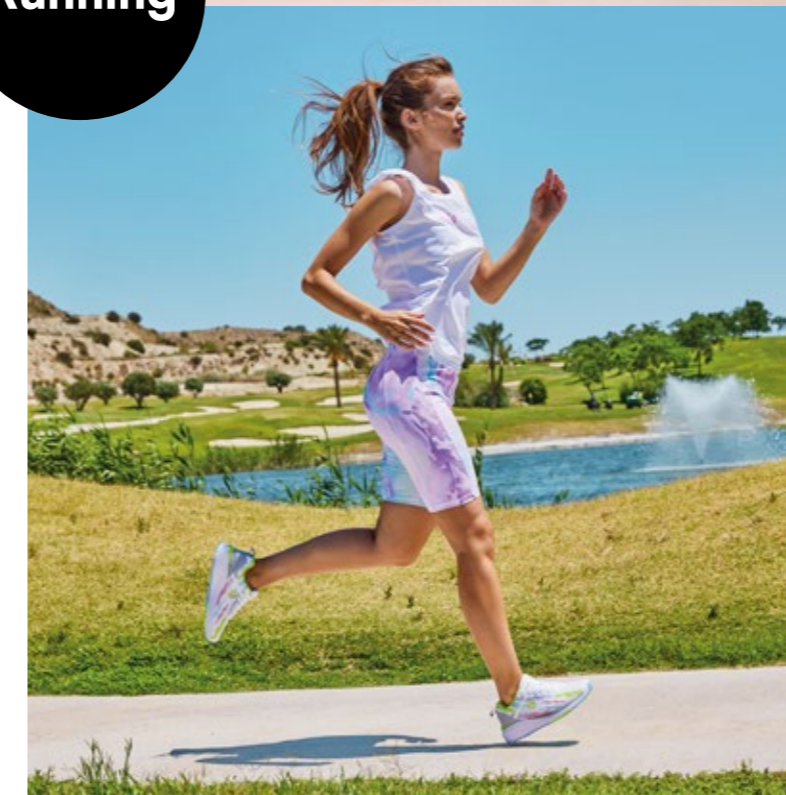

The TerraTrak system is a hybrid for sport on uneven terrain and sport on asphalt. This system is achieved with a trail upper and a multifunctional, indented sole with a higher drop and adaptive cushioning.

Rackets

Since 2008 J'hayber has been a leading brand in the world of padel and everything to do with the sport. Our research investment into all things padel related has led to us being surrounded by professional players, medical specialists, and technicians, with a result that is technical perfection.

Our sponsorship of Padel Pro Tour tournaments and world figures such as Gaby Reca, Hernán "Bebe" Auguste, Miguel Lamperti, Matías Díaz, Agustín Gómez Silingo "La Bestia", and our support for sports centres and padel coaches have given us a wealth of expertise in the sport.

The design of our rackets, together with the highest quality materials, means we manufacture state-of-the-art equipment for advanced level players.

Footwear and textiles

Padel is an integral sport for J'hayber, and padel shoes and clothing are essential elements for maximum enjoyment and comfort when playing.

Our padel shoes are made using quality materials and state-of-the-art technology, such as carbon in the soles, for greater durability and adaptability to the characteristic movements involved in the sport, as well as offering great resistance to wear and tear and excellent stability, always protecting players from impact twists or injuries.

We also offer a wide variety of padel garments, designed for maximum comfort and breathability. Our catalogue includes clothing for men, women, and juniors, ranging from t-shirts, shorts, skirts, and kits to sweatshirts, jackets, and trousers for the cold season.

What's more, our products have been tested by top national and international padel players, such as Agustín Gómez Silingo (La Bestia), to ensure maximum quality and comfort.

Courts

Here at J'hayber Padel, the Spanish manufacturer of padel courts and sports facilities, we export our Made in Spain trade mark around the world, providing quality, trust, and experience.

With sporting links going back to 1972, we have worked alongside the world's top athletes, learning from their experience to build the facilities that best fit the needs of each discipline. We have introduced cutting-edge technology and innovative processes throughout our brand history, providing a customised service to meet the most demanding international standards.

J'hayber's track record in the provision of sports facilities is inextricably linked to the history of padel. We have forged a close relationship with professionals in the field, so we know how to select the best kind of synthetic turf for each project, providing the ideal bounce by combining durability and suppleness in fibrillated or multifilament turf, in a range of attractive colours. Only in this way can we achieve results we are completely satisfied with.

The safety and quality of the materials are of paramount importance in a padel court. Consequently, entrusting the installation to qualified experts is vital. Here at J'hayber Instalaciones Deportivas we design, manufacture, and assemble your made-to-measure padel court while taking the following specifications into account: structure and hardware, electro-welded mesh, glazing, synthetic turf, lighting and paintwork.
