ABOUT US

Flora Ola was established in 2011 and is located in Solai, Nakuru county in Kenya. The name was derived from two words, Flora from plants and Ola is an acronym of the farm Ol-Bonata and river bordering it. It is situated between two rivers with an elevation between 1850-1950m.

The farm started with summer flowers and in 2014, a major hailstorm struck, leading to a change to greenhouse farming with 10 hectares dedicated to venturing into roses. Since then, the farm has progressively expanded in the production of standard and spray roses. Currently there are 42 hectares of standard and spray roses, and 4 hectares of summer flowers. Flora Ola focuses on sustainability through practices such as harvesting rainwater (closed water system), use of solar panels and organic manure.
