AFTERNOON MOVIES

Tues. July 7 @ 3pm: Water for Elephants follows a young veterinary student during the Great Depression who joins a struggling circus, caring for its animals and forming a deep bond with a performer, leading to a dangerous love triangle. Praised for its lavish period detail and performances, it offers an old-fashioned romantic drama feel.

Thu. July 9 @ 3pm: Walk the Line is a biographical drama about country music legend Johnny Cash, following his journey from a poor Arkansas farm boy to a global music icon. Starring Joaquin Phoenix and Reese Witherspoon.

Tues. July 14 @ 3pm: The Birdcage is a comedy about a gay cabaret owner and his drag queen partner who must put up a false straight front when their son brings home his fiancée's conservative parents.

Tues. July 21 @ 3pm: Grumpy Old Men: John Gustafson & Max Goldman are feuding neighbors in a snowbound Wabasha, MN neighborhood. They actually like each other, but they trade insults, dismissals, snubs and dire imprecations. Their lifeblood is gossip and jealousy. Then beauty Ariel moves into the neighborhood and heats things up!

Tues. July 28 @ 3pm: Stand By Me follows four 12-year-old boys in 1959 Oregon who hike into the wilderness to find the dead body of a missing local teenager. Hoping to become local heroes, their journey turns into a profound coming-of-age experience as they share their deepest fears, confront local bullies, and bond over the trials of growing up.
