

This Saturday

SEPTEMBER 25, 2021 (1PM EST)

OUR MONTHLY BLACK AND NATIVE UNITY SPEAKER IS

YMASUMAC MARANON DAVIS

Quechua People of Bolivia and Pilgrims of New England

Ymasumac Maranon is a writer, educational consultant, university lecturer and intuitive life coach. She has been a teacher, administrator in education, published author and international speaker addressing issues from changing perceptions in learning cultures to equity to healing. A couple of projects she's exploring are storytelling as a tool of transformation and how to create a mindset characterized by humility.

In Search of the Sacred: Developing a Practice of Truth-Seeking

How do we create long-lasting change in a world in transition? Quite possibly we are learning to read with the eyes of the dawn-breakers to recreate our inner and outer reality. In this way we are developing patterns of living that search for truth that will shape our vision, our language, and our posture of day to day living. Change then becomes the constant movement of a life in transformation.

ALL ARE WELCOME TO REGISTER AT:

<https://tinyurl.com/REGISTER-BaNUNITY>