"The one remedy specifically provided for in the Constitution is the amendment process that bypasses the Congress. I would like to see that amendment process used just once. I do not much care what it is used for the first time, but using it once will exert an enormous influence on both the Congress and the Supreme Court." Antonin Scalia

"Nor however difficult it may be supposed to unite two-thirds or three-fourths of the State legislatures, in amendments...We may safely rely on the disposition of the State legislatures to erect barriers against the encroachments of the national authority."
Alexander Hamilton

"an ulterior resort is provided in amendments attainable by an intervention of the states, which may better adapt the Constitution for the purposes of its creation." James Madison
