June 2023

JUNE OVERVIEW

Beginning the 2024 School Year

Welcome! If you've only just joined us, we're happy to have you. Officially the new school year begins in June, and we are more than ready to greet it. But technically, for most of our students, the start of the school year is August 1.

We do, however, have some dedicated students working through the month of June. But we are also hard at work preparing for the influx of new students soon to come.

If you need us in June and July, we're here!

End-of-the-Year Progress Reports

There is always so much to do at the end of a school year, not the least of which is compiling all of the student's grades and getting them in your hands.

And we're getting it done. You should have your student's final Progress Report in your inbox on the week of June 23.

The NHHSA Parent

PROFILE OF AN NHHSA PARENT

We acknowledge what makes you different, and we appreciate that you:

- Are interested and involved in your child's academic journey;
- Know your child's capabilities and limitations;
- Understand that education happens when the individual needs of a student are met and critical thinking skills are not minimized;
- Reject the idea that government entities are the experts on your child's well-being;
- Dare to assert your authority on all matters that intimately affect your minor child; and

Your student matters to you, we know. That's why you've sought out an alternative method of education that brought you to our door.

At NHHSA, we understand that you are your child's principal educator. You are also the primary authority on what is best for your child, and we not only recognize this. we applaud it. We act as the mediator between what your child needs and what the state requires of your child academically. And we do so expertly and in cooperation with you.

This is what makes NHHSA different. We know our

- Know the value of family-centered education.

place, but more importantly, we recognize and respect yours. This, and our unique methodology, is why NHHSA is the leading homeschooling provider in the southwest.
