Andrew Tischler

Today, the internet provides opportunities to discover artists we would never know about without it. I've been following artist Andrew Tischler who is not only a great artist but also has developed excellent tutorial videos explaining his artistic process.

Born in Texas in 1983, Andrew Tischler was obsession by art from a young age. Relocating to New Zealand, and then to Western Australia, Tischler developed an interest in this newfound landscape and unique flora and fauna. The Western Australian landscape, particularly the Pilbara and the Kimberely region inspired Tischler immensely.

Since embarking on a career as a professional artist at the age of 21, Tischler has worked on his craft, striving to master traditional realist painting. Many artist-in-residencies, exhibitions and commissions later, Andrew Tischler's work is held in private collections worldwide.

Tischler currently resides in the South Island of New Zealand and in recent years he has discovered a passion for teaching his craft through classes, workshops and now with his online video series that can be found on YouTube. His online lessons have been seen by millions of people worldwide.

Here is a sample of just one of the many videos where he explains his process.
