April 2020 Update - 3S Art Newsletter

Contact me by email

Video Conferencing software classes for your computer, smart phone or iPad.

I am offering remote learning classes on video conferencing software. Clearly this battle with the corona virus has changed the way we do business. I believe the future will include a degree of social distancing. If you are a teacher, business man, own your own business or want to communicate with friends and family, video conference is an excellent tool. If interested send me an email or give me a call. The classes will focus on art. However, you will improve your computer skills or your skills using your iPhone. I have developed 5 different courses for your consideration.

Good bless our first responders, nurses and doctors. Hope everyone is doing well.

#1. Five different online classes will be offered
