December 2020 - 3S Art Newsletter

The 2020 calendar year has been like no other.

** This Covid-19 pandemic year has completely disrupted the way in which we go about our daily life, with the immediate loss of our routines, working hours, roles, responsibilities and for some the loss of family or friends. There appears to be very promising vaccines close to distribution to the public. Hopefully these vaccines will return us to the world we are use to all these years.

In these troubled times, we also witness the hard work and good will to fellow human beings by many individuals. I can't say enough good things for our health care workers and people that risk their lives to keep us save. Thanks! Below are 3 watercolors to celebrate those brave heroes.

Top Christmas songs

It's the most wonderful time of the year. For a couple of weeks every year the world takes on a magic glow, people seem merrier and even winter somehow feels cosy.

Whether you're celebrating a religious festival, like Hanukkah or Christmas, or a more secular occasion, you're sure to have your own selection of rituals or customs that make the holiday season so special. Our favorite Christmas traditions around the world are loud, proud, and guarantee oodles of festive fun.

Norway

Perhaps one of the most unorthodox Christmas Eve traditions can be found in Norway, where people hide their brooms. It's a tradition that dates back centuries to when people believed that witches and evil spirits came out on Christmas Eve looking for brooms to ride on. To this day, many people still hide their brooms in the safest place in the house to stop them from being stolen.

Krampus, Austria

A beast-like demon creature that roams city streets frightening kids and punishing the bad ones – nope, this isn't Halloween, but St. Nicholas' evil accomplice, Krampus. In Austrian tradition, St. Nicholas rewards nice little boys and girls, while Krampus is said to capture the naughtiest children and whisk them away in his sack. In the first week of December, young men dress up as the Krampus (especially on the eve of St. Nicholas Day) frightening children with clattering chains and bells.

Kentucky Fried Christmas Dinner, Japan

Christmas has never been a big deal in Japan. Aside from a few small, secular traditions such as gift-giving and light displays, Christmas remains largely a novelty in the country. However, a new, quirky "tradition" has emerged in recent years – a Christmas Day feast of the Colonel's very own Kentucky Fried Chicken.

The festive menu will soon be advertized on the KFC Japan website and, even if you don't understand Japanese, the pictures sure will look delicious with everything from a Christmas-themed standard bucket to a premium roast-bird feast.

ITALY

Italian families celebrate Christmas Eve with the Feast of the seven fishes and eat lentils during the holiday season to ensure luck and wealth for the following year. The children in Italy receive gifts from La Befana during Christmas.

IRELAND

It's traditional for Irish families to leave out mince pies and pint of Guinness as a snack for Santa.

SPAIN

The Spanish dish, turrón, a confection made from honey, egg white, sugar, and toasted almonds, is served during Christmas. Recipes date back to the 16th century.

I would like to wish everyone a happy holiday. Enjoy your traditions and foods. Most of all enjoy your family and friends. The holidays bring us together no matter how you celebrate or say happy holidays or Merry Christmas.
