

LikeTweetPin+1in

January 2020 - 3S Art Newsletter

Sydney Harbor New Year's Celebration (Click to see video)

Australia - How do people down under celebrate New Years?

In Sydney, the start of the New Year is heralded by a huge fireworks display. It is estimated that one to one-and-a-half million people watch the display at the Sydney Harbour. In other towns and cities, smaller displays are organized by local authorities.

For many people, New Year's Day is a time to recover from New Year's Eve parties the evening before. Others use the day to travel home to end the summer vacation or to spend time with family members. People who enjoy horse racing may watch or bet on the Perth Cup. The race is run over 3200 meters (just over two miles) at the Ascot Racecourse in Perth, Western Australia. The prize money for the race totals 400,000 Australian dollars.

Click here for video

Would you climb the Sydney bridge?

If you can't get down to Australia for the New Year's celebration, no worries Mate, there is plenty to do in Australia. In Sydney you can visit a beach in the city called Bondi Beach. You can tour the famous Sydney Opera house. Or perhaps, you prefer to climb the iconic Sydney Bridge.

Pavlova

Vegemite

Lamington

Barramundi

Anzac biscuit

Meat pie

Tim Tam

Click here for a video

Read more - click here

What are the most popular food in Australia?

Anyone for some grilled kangaroo?

Australia's 10 most popular traditional foods

1. Chicken parmigiana. This classic Aussie chicken dish — with roots in Italian-

American cooking — is a staple offering on pretty much every pub menu in the country. ...

2. Barbequed snags (aka sausages) ...

3. Lamingtons. ...

4. A burger with 'the lot' ...

5. Pavlova. ...

6. Meat pies. ...

7. Barramundi. ...

8. Vegemite on Toast.

9. Pumpin soup

10. Grilled kangaroo Read more about Australia's food- Lean and tasty, kangaroo is one of the healthiest meats around, as well being a national icon. But you better like your steak blue, or at least rare as Skippy is notoriously difficult to cook and can dry out quite easily if left on the barbie too long.

Tastewise, it's closest to beef. However, kangaroo has more protein and iron than beef, and fewer calories and fat content. It's also a good source of omega-3.

Go to 3 Sart

Link to 3S Art

Photos of your travels turned into an original oil painting.

If you have a favorite photo or memorable moment in your travels, have me turn that photo into an oil painting. This makes a beautiful personal memory for yourself or a personal gift for a loved one.

Hope everyone has a healthy and HAPPY NEW YEAR!

3S Art (Sun, Sea and Snow)

Visit 3S Art website

Subscribe to 3S Art newsletter

Anthony Russo

©2019 3S Art | Post Office Box 2181, Long Branch, NJ 07740-2181

Web Version

Preferences

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by
GoDaddy Email Marketing®