Why you should take photos when on vacation

Adventures are meant to be shared, and what better way to do it than through photos?

Whether you go the traditional photo album route or opt for social media, it's a surefire way to make your friends and family feel like they were there too! And that's just the beginning of the fun! Your photos will let you:

Capture and savor the moment.

Discover more details.

Get inspired.

Share your memories with others!

The software on phones today is amazing. Check out this 2 minute video I created on my phone using a group of photos from my recent trip to Sorrento, Italy. I shared it with my fellow travelers to remind them of all the fun we had on our journey. They loved it!
