Thanksgiving History

In 1621, the Plymouth colonists and Wampanoag Indians shared an autumn harvest feast that is acknowledged today as one of the first Thanksgiving celebrations in the colonies. For more than two centuries, days of thanksgiving were celebrated by individual colonies and states.

World Cup Action Returning To Killington in 2019, 2020

The day after Thanksgiving 2019, Killington will host the World Cup again. As with the last three years of the Audi FIS Ski World Cup, the 2019 and 2020 races at Killington will be broadcast worldwide to more than 60 nations, along with national broadcast coverage across the US. The event has drawn an increasing number of spectators who converge in Killington each year to cheer on racers from around the world.

One of my favorite stories was two years ago when Mikaela Shiffrin grandma was at the finish line to see her win this event. I love this quote by Mikaela *Shiffrin, “The most proud I’ve ever been is to win a race in front of my nana, and the best part about it is she doesn’t care whether I win or lose,” __Shiffrin said.***

A print of the painting above can be purchased for only $150. The painting looks beautiful on stretched canvas and is one of my original works of art. The picture is the top of Killington peak in Vermont and is the view when you get off the gondola. Send me an email and I will ship (FREE shipping) out the painting. The other three painting also look great on canvas and can be ordered also. Enjoy your thanksgiving!
